After we, the class of 1982, leave our alma mater, we will take precious few things of permanence with us. Among these are the memories of events and friends. Even these memories tend to fade as years pass.

The one indelible record of our senior year will be our yearbook. We, the staff of the 1982 Viking, are fully aware of our responsibilities in this regard. It is with humility and pride that we submit to you, our fellow Vikings, our 1982 edition of this venerable book. Hopefully you will find it pleasing, relatively complete, and accurate.

FALL

Fall Play: A Colorful Event

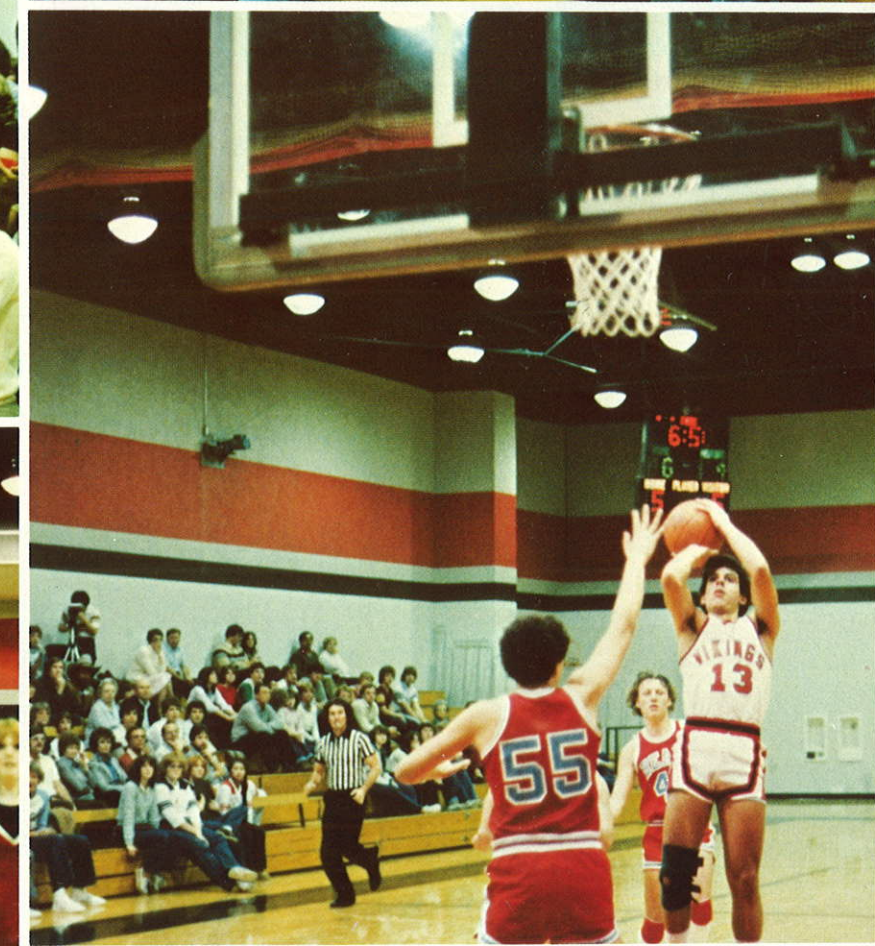

The North Salem Drama Department presented "Story Theatre" on November 12, 13, and 14. "Story Theatre" is a collection of delightful story greats like, "Henny Penny, The Golden Goose, The Little Peasant" and many more stories by the Grimm Brothers and Aesop. The fairy tales were chosen for fun and to challenge the ten actors. Each actor performed seven different characters with a total of seventy costume changes.

The play was directed by Pamela Baldwin with technical direction by Mark Goff. Paul Jones was assistant to the director and Jonna Neff was stage manager.

It was a very colorful production and was enjoyed by those who attended.

NEW UNIFORMS . . . NEW SPIRIT

Impressive changes and marked improvement in quality were very noticeable with the 1982 Viking marching band.

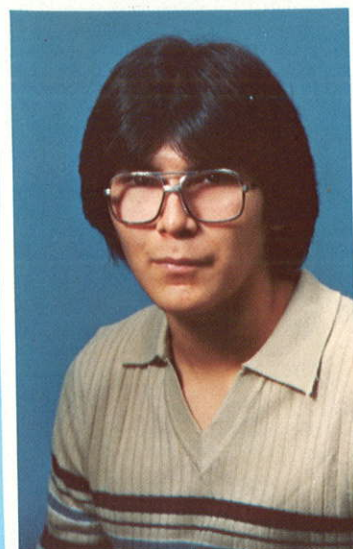

Under the able direction of hard-working band director Richard Schleuter, marching routines and parade formations became more sophisticated and polished. The biggest visible change, however, was the addition of sparkling new uniforms on November 2. The first appearance for the group in uniform was the Veteran's Day parade in Albany on November 11.

Viks Upset Rebels

Success is relative and is measured in many ways. Attainment in athletics is usually gauged by the ratio of wins to losses; While this is valid other measurements also have merit.

Improvement is one of these. When applied to the 1981 Viking football team this improvement came in several areas first of course was the outstanding victory over an undefeated South Albany at Albany.

Just as important however according to coach Dave Ackerman was the vast improvement in enthusiasm and spirit.

J.V. Team Runs Into Hard Luck

The 1981 J.V. football team might have been named the hard luck team of the year. The year began with an inadequate turnout. The very existence of a Viking J.V. team was in doubt for some time. This led to a forfeit of games before the team was fielded.

As a result, it would not be reasonable to expect the resulting team to win against stronger competition. Although they did not win, the experience and training gained for future varsity teams made the season worthwhile.

Youngest Viks Do Well

The jump from middle school football to high school football always has a big effect on freshman teams.

In addition to the inexperience, the small turnout of the frosh boys hurt the team effort at the start. Hard work, high spirits, and the ambition of both athletes and coaches kept the team alive throughout the season.

To start off their season, the Vikings upset Gladstone with a final score of 48-0. They then went on to defeat the McKay Scots in an exciting game, ending it at 14-0.

Coach Rob Robinson and his assistants, Tom Buck, John Bartlett and Greg Giza say the freshman team has potential and should be a source of future varsity material.

Volleyball Has Winning Season

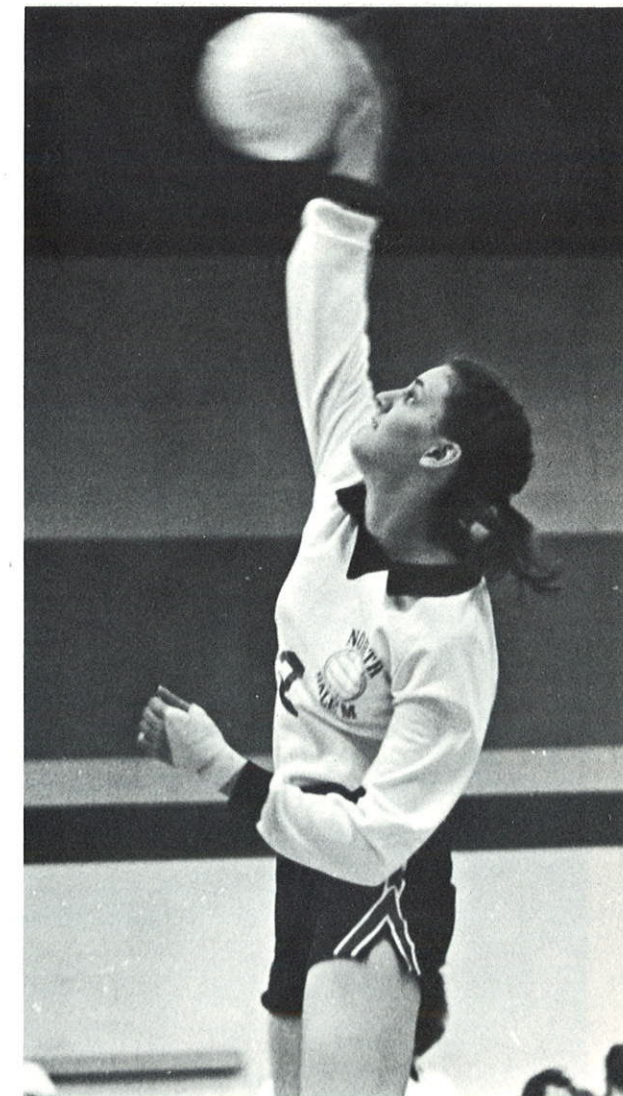

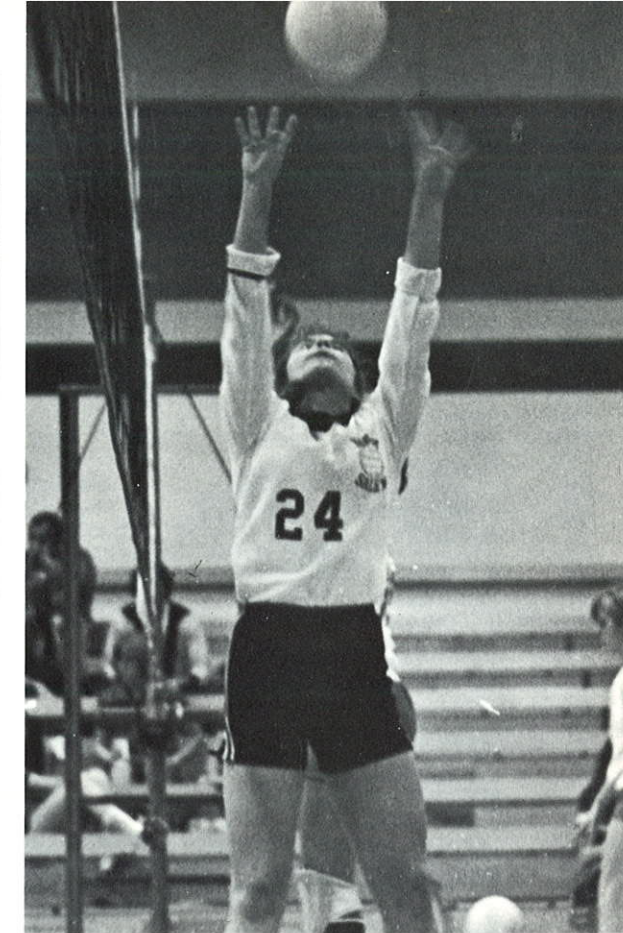

The varsity volleyball team opened the season with three straight losses and then came back to finish fifth in the competitive Valley League.

While juniors and sophomores made up most of the team with a resulting lack of experience, improvement came as the season went on. The season was highlighted with victories over Lebanon and McKay. "The girls played with total team effort and proved to be superior volleyball players," said coach Cheryl Brown.

Four vikings were honored for their abilities by the league. Pam Weber was voted to the second All League Team and Kris Gibb, Julie Zeller, and Terri Hardman were awarded honorable mentions.

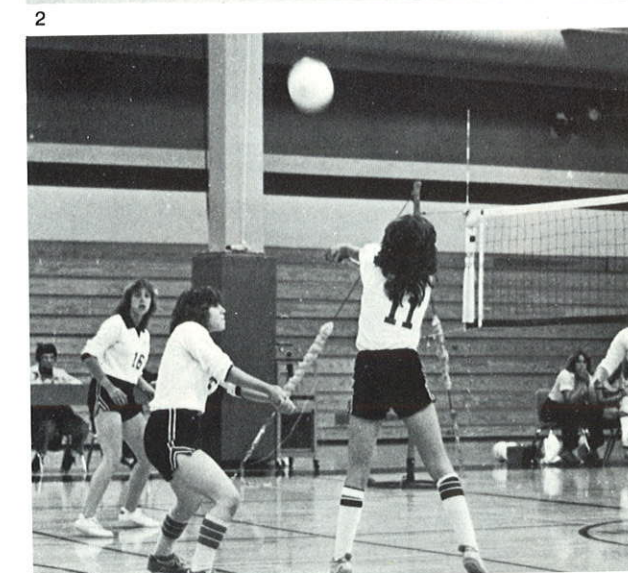

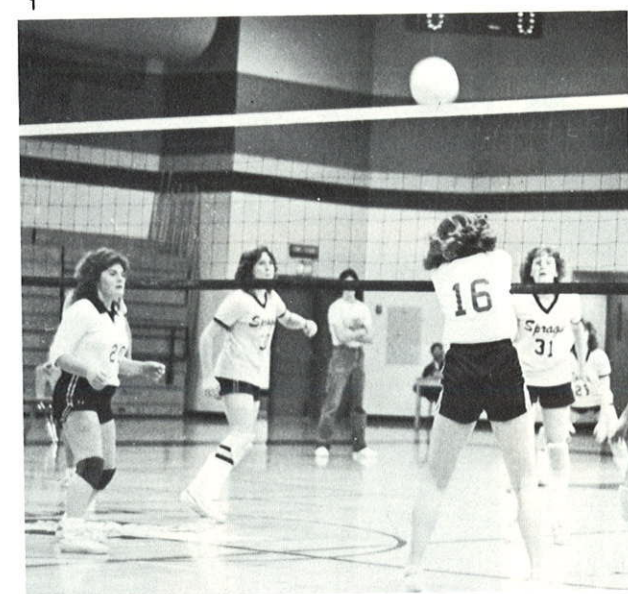

Terri Hardman was also elected by her teammates as the most valuable player. Marilyn Johnson was most inspirational, and Melanie Rienstra was voted most improved.

Since the team was so young, most members can return next year with added experience and hope for a winning season.

JV SPIKE SEASON

The junior varsity volleyball team did well this year. Although they were 1 out of 5, they demonstrated a good deal of fire and enthusiasm in the games they played. All the girls enjoyed the year and demonstrated hard work and a large measure of dedication throughout the entire season.

An Encouraging Season For Volleyball

The 1981 Freshman volleyball team started out the season in great style under the direction of Coach Cherri Clemens. The team looked good on the floor, building up a record of ten and eight this year. A winning record in any sport in the powerful Valley League is an accomplishment worthy of pride.

Among the awards earned in 1981 were; Susan Schaberg most valuable, Lori Baughman most improved, and Michele Moe for most inspirational.

Vikings Have Superior Season

Enormous depth and an outstanding performer named Erovick led the Viking girl's gymnastics team to a 7-2 season. Coach Diane Nored commented about Amy, "She just seems to glow out there when she is doing her routine." Senior Amy Erovick was a consistant all-around winner and will be sorely missed next year.

Waiting in the wings, however, is Julie Folk, a sparkling junior gymnast.

In addition to individual standouts, other members of the team turned in dependable and strong performances on the beam, vault, bars, and floor to chalk up the points for Viking victories.

Young Team Works

The 1981-82 boys soccer team did not have an outstanding record. One thing they did have, however, was a very enjoyable year for all concerned.

This year's team was young, so Coach Steve Chambers had his team concentrate on improving skills by practicing drills and giving everyone plenty of playing time during the games.

The season ended with much enthusiasm on the part of the team members. Look for more in the years to come!

The special awards were given as follows; Ringo Hung, Most Valuable Player; Todd Diskin, Most Inspirational; Walop Glinphraturm, Most Hustle; Eric Bonn and Upendra Ranaweera, Most Improved.

Women Are Winners

Girl's soccer had a successful season, winning six of their eleven games, putting them in fifth place in District 8AAA.

Soccer for girls has only been around a couple of years, but the North Salem girls can consider themselves successful.

The outlook of this year's team was exceptionally good. They have had much experience this year and next year's team is expected to go all the way!

Of the awards given at the banquet, Most inspirational, Kris Rambo; Most improved, Tracy Fryman; Best hustler, Yuko Mizuno; and Most valuable player was Denise Kincaid.

Enthusiasm Overcomes Inexperience

Despite an unimpressive record, Cross Country coach Dan Lies considered the 1981 season a success. The runners were young and inexperienced, with no seniors on either team. The runners all improved over the season as a result of hard work and good attitude.

At the annual awards banquet, the following athletes were honored: Paul Bliss and Debbie Shythe, Most Valuable; Eric Wright and Kim Wynia, Most Improved; Randy June and Julie Squires, Most Inspirational. The outlook for next year is promising, with most of the team planning to return.

"There's No Place Like Home"

Homecoming 1981 was either exciting, delightful, or intoxicating, depending upon one's own sentiments towards North High.

The week's activities started on October 12. The Annual Powderpuff Football Game was held on Wednesday. The Senior girls were victorious and it was a lot of fun for everyone.

At the pep assembly, Principal Tom Pickens crowned Amy Erovick this years Queen. Queen Amy and her escort Randy Grinberg, were honored to participate in a royal procession, while the band played the background music.

Juniors were awarded the "SPIRIT MUG" for the class yell-off. The cup was made by Stu Chaplusk, the pottery teacher. It is presented to the class which has the most spirit, and is the loudest. This was the first time the award has been made.

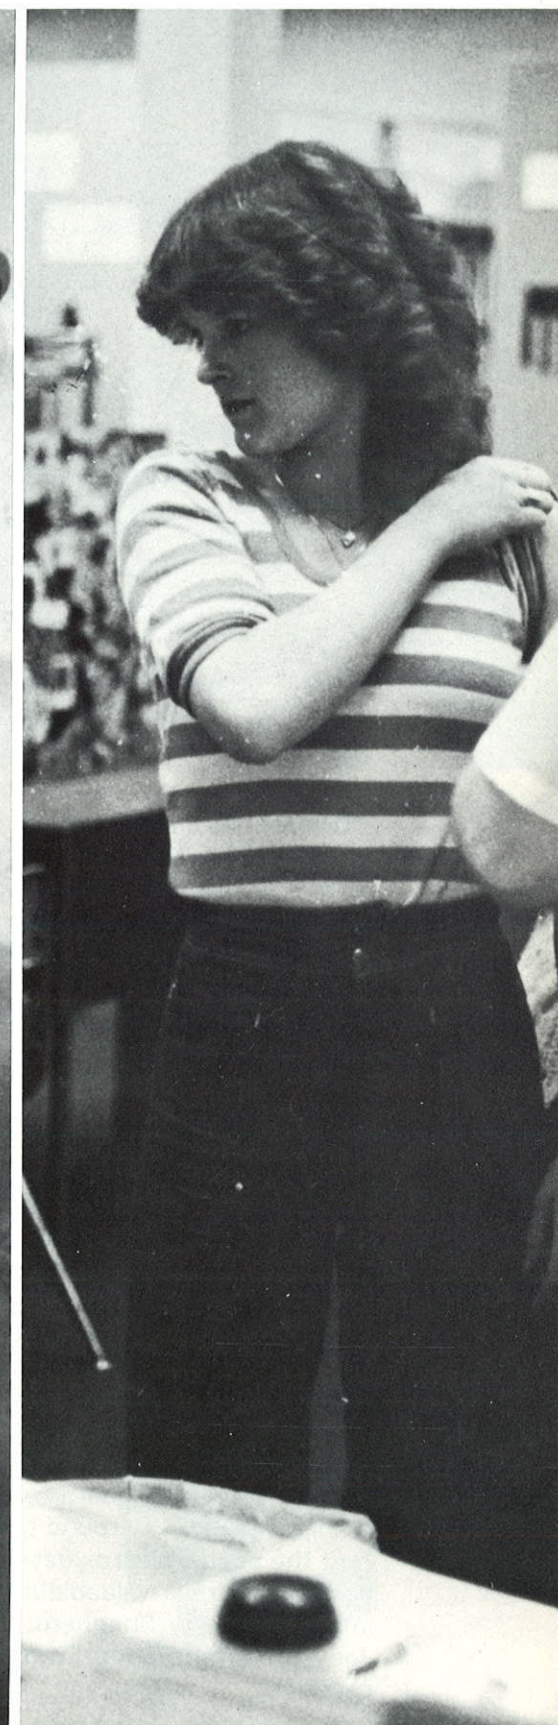

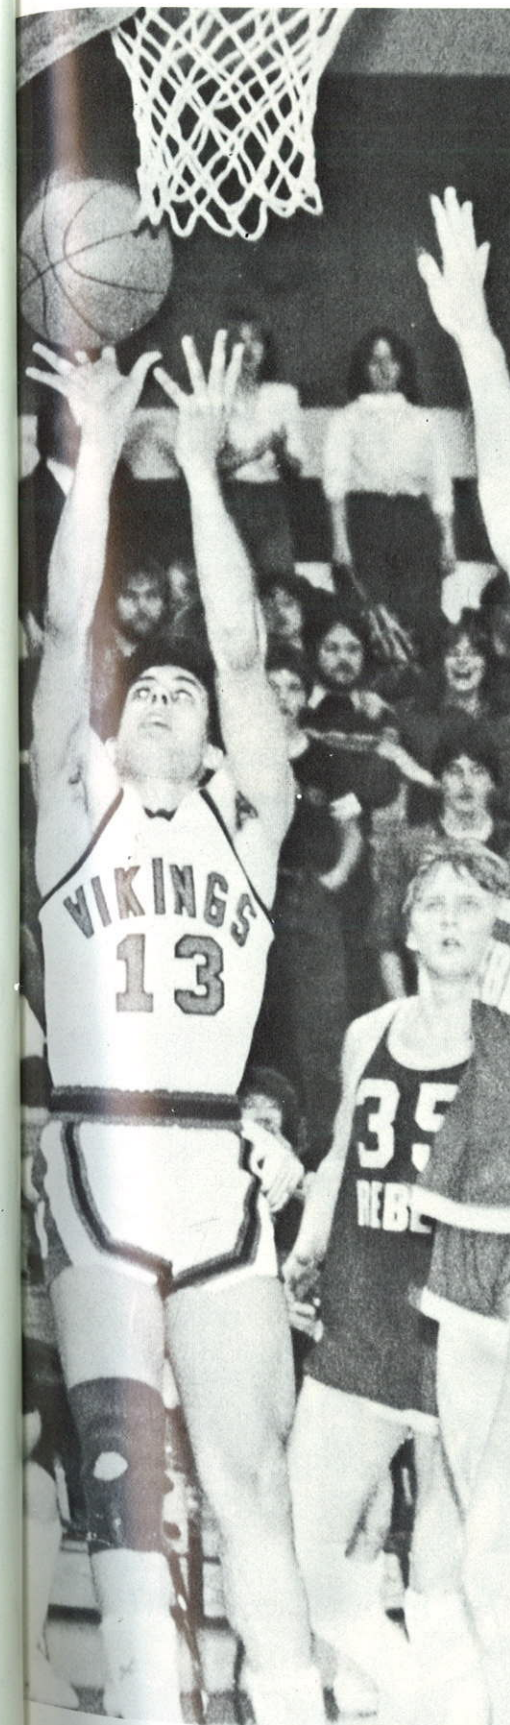

Later that night at the game, South defeated the Vikings, but that did not dim the enthusiasm among the Vikings. This was shown through the active participation of the crowd lining up on the field at half-time.

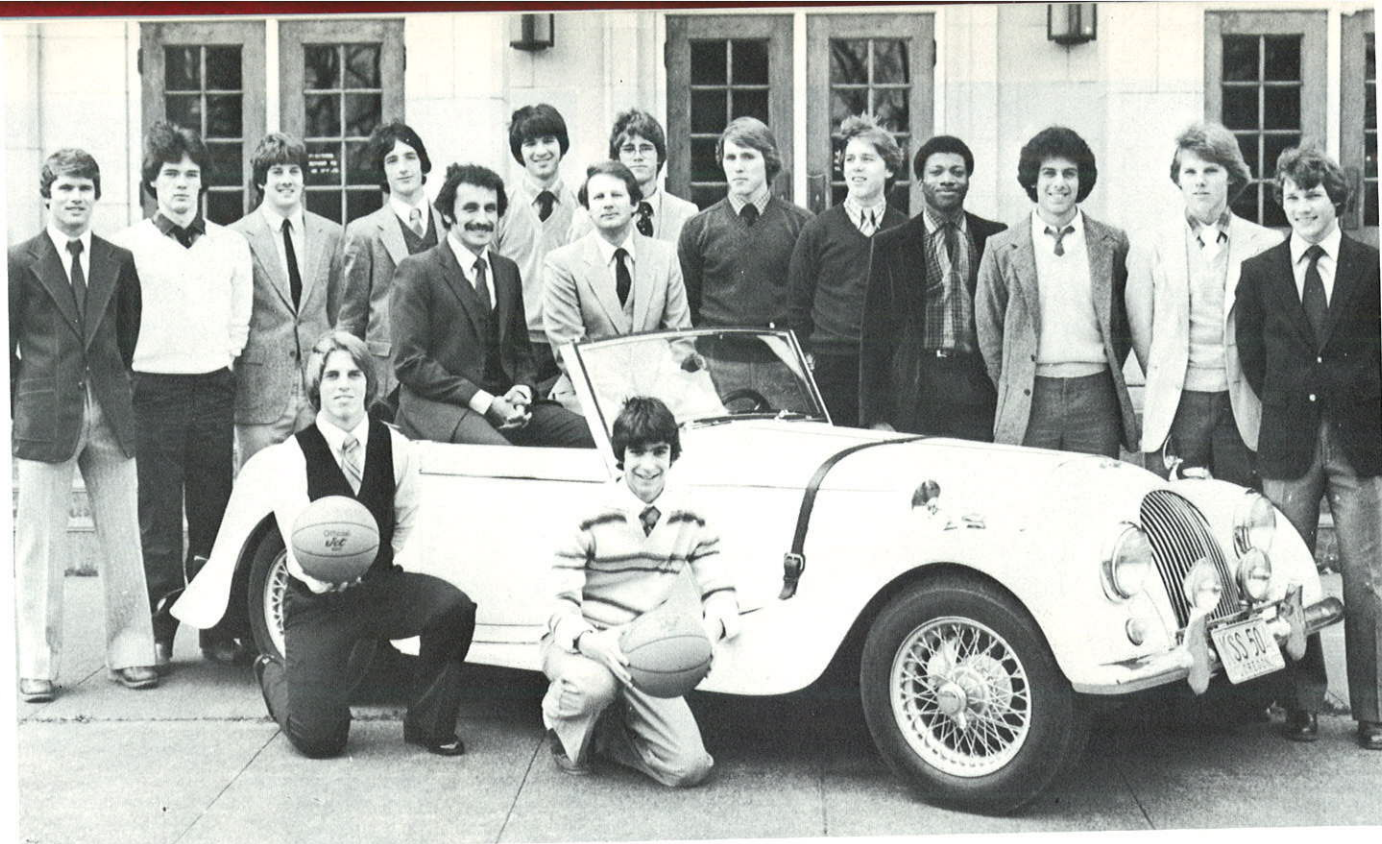

The dance was a big success, with Annette Garrison and her band playing "You Can Take My Heart Away" as the finale to an enjoyable evening.

Young Viks Persevere

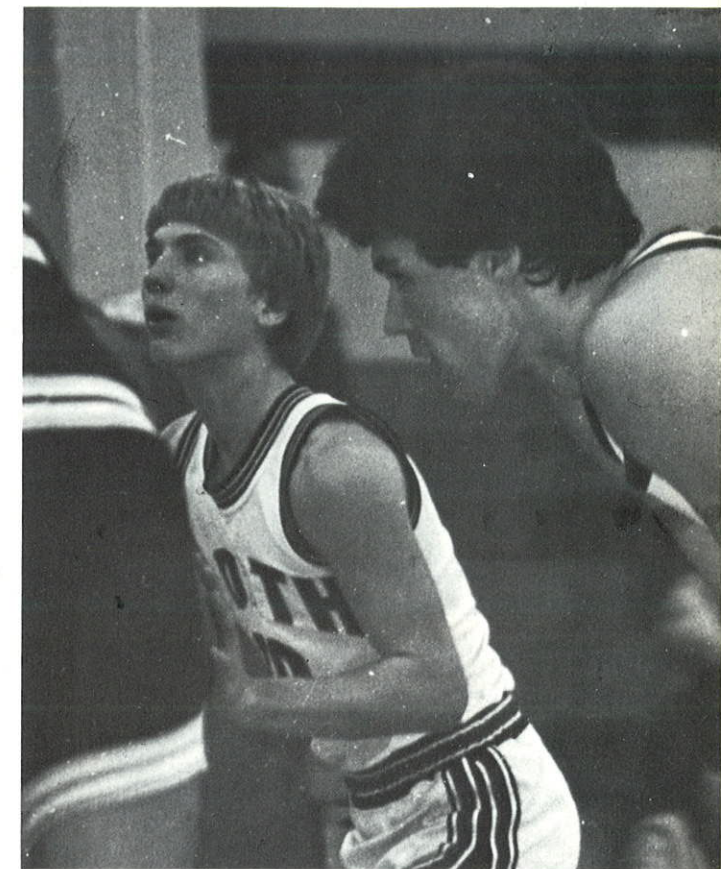

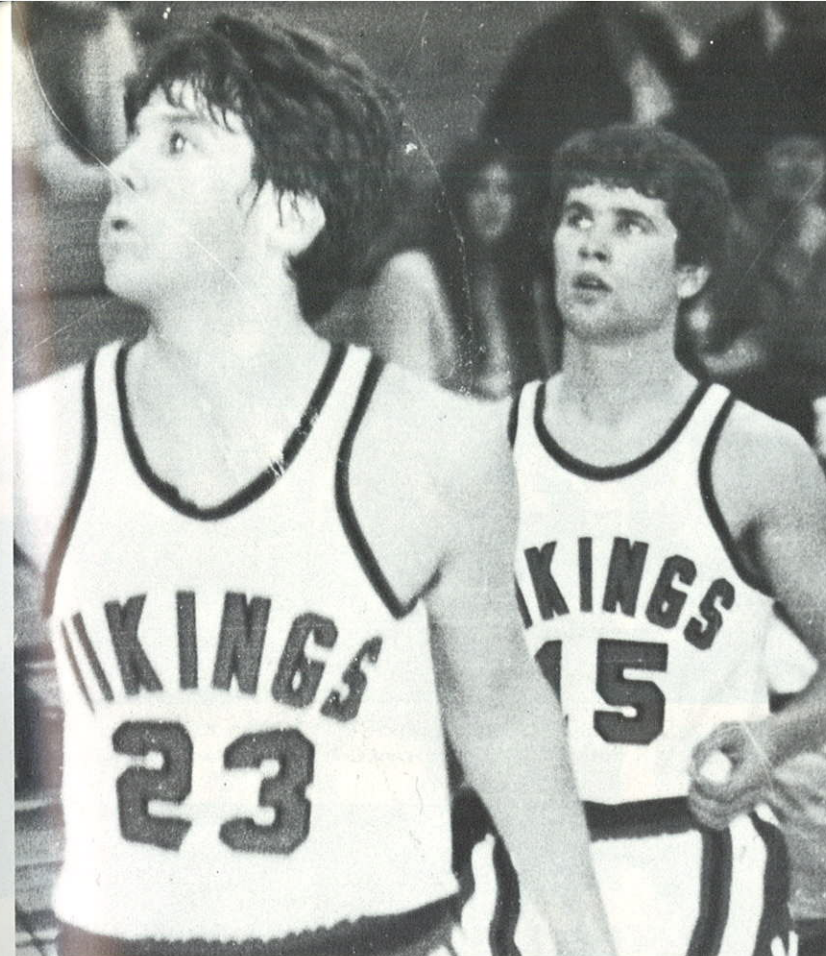

Despite a losing record, the varsity mens' basketball team played with tenacity throughout the entire season. Coach Ron Brown said that they were very determined, competitive and had a great attitude. They never gave up despite the difficulties they encountered.

The team was very young, starting two juniors and a freshman, which will give the Vikings an experienced team for next year and a good prospect for a winning season.

The season was highlighted by a one-point victory over South Albany with Todd Evans putting in a rebound basket at the final buzzer.

The team was led by senior forward John Anunsen, who finished fifth in the league in scoring with a 12.9 average, and led the team in rebounds and steals. He was honored by the valley league by being named to the third team all-league. Freshman center Greg McNeal finished second in rebounds, junior forward John Carr had the top field goal percentage and junior guard Todd Evans has the highest free throw percentage. Senior guard Joey Brisso provided leadership with solid all round play.

At the annual awards dessert, John Anunsen was named the most valuable player, John Carr: most improved, Kerry Shepherd: most inspirational and Joey Brisso and Todd Evans were voted team co-captains.

Another Winning Season For the Wrestlers

The High School Wrestling season is a very long and grueling one. Official practice began in early November, but most serious wrestlers train in some way throughout the year. Many wrestlers attend summer programs. Three Vik wrestlers traveled as far as Iowa to attend the Iowa Intensive program. The season ended in late February.

The varsity wrestlers had a winning season as usual in 1981-82. They were 6-3 in district meets and participated in many tournaments. These included a sixteen team tournament in Oregon City and the prestigious Coast Classic in Santa Cruz, California. In the District Tournament, North finished fourth, just 2½ points behind the third place finisher. North had the most first place titles in the district tournament.

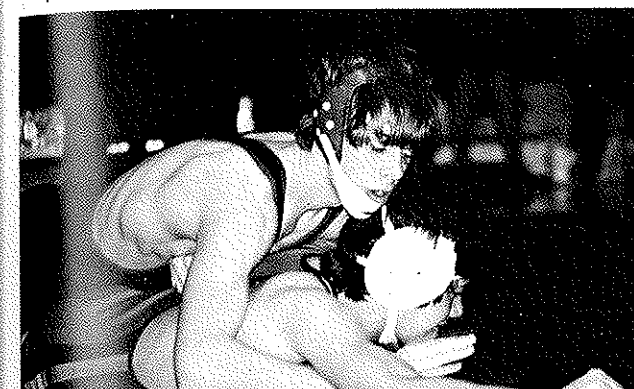

Mike Ritchey at 106, Riley Loyd at 130 and Marvin Seal at 148. Also representing North, Roman Bostick at 2nd at district, Tully Williams, 3rd, and Bill Harris, 4th.

In the State Tournament, North finished 8th, the highest of any Valley League School. Bringing in the points for this finish were senior Marvin Seal and junior Mike Ritchey.

Seal is one of the best wrestlers North has produced, according to Bob Buzzard. Seal's 122-2-2 high school record under scores this statement. He took the State Championship at 136 as a junior, and at 148 his senior year. Ritchey's record for this year was 29-5. He was state runner-up at 106 and shows tremendous promise for next season.

J.V. Wrestlers Have Good Year

North Salem J.V. wrestling team was mostly made up of freshmen and sophomores with a few juniors. The team was 7-2 this year and with a record of that the future of North Salem wrestling team is looking good.

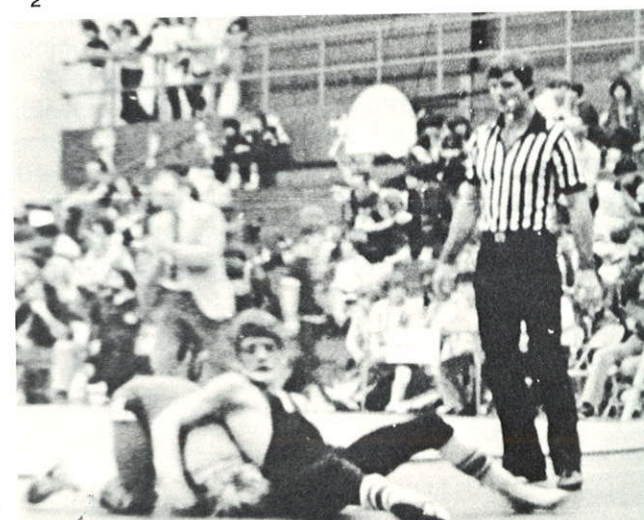

The Junior Varsity work very hard all year to go to the district meet. Although only one J.V. wrestler placed, they did do a fair job of picking up some quick points in the beginning of the district tournament.

Young Vik Wrestlers Shine

This years freshman wrestler's faced a challenge by wrestling on both the freshman and junior varsity teams.

The rigorous schedule for the freshman was met with great enthusiasm, and many successes.

These successes were earned by perserverance on the part of these young Vikings.

With the quality and talent of this young class, the future's of varsity wrestling at North High seems to be an assured success.

Rob progresses toward a pin.

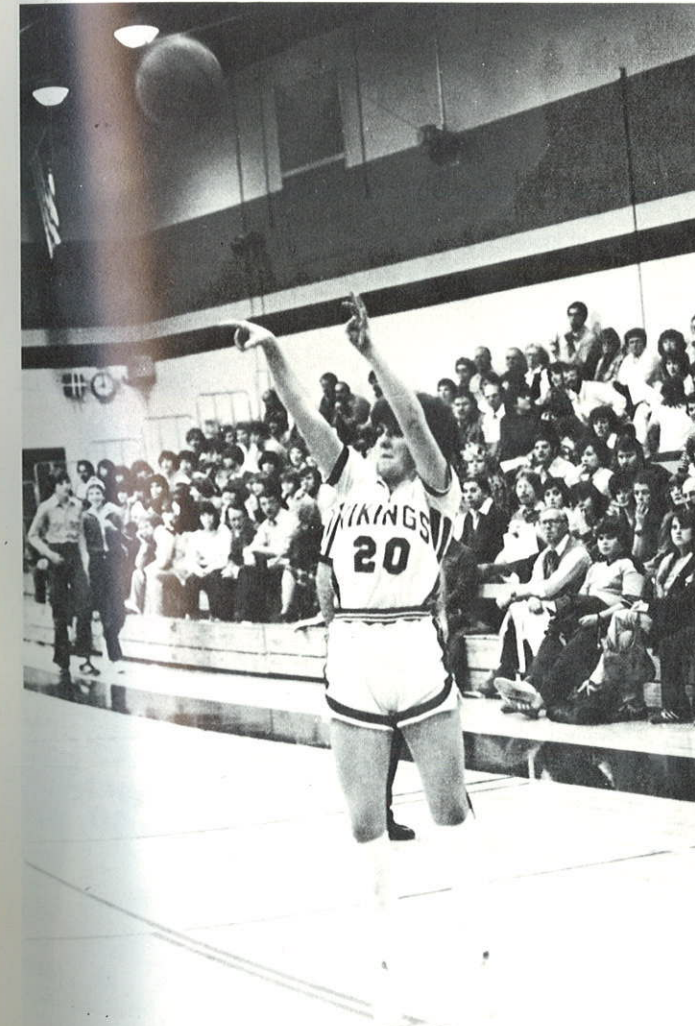

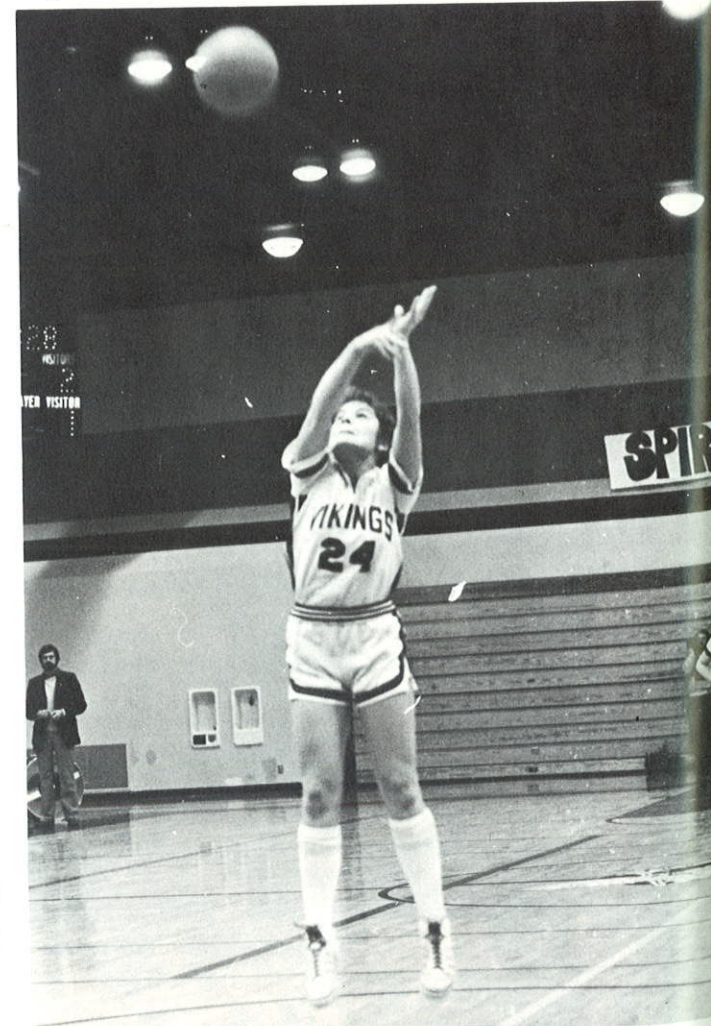

Women Have Double Season

The varsity Viking women really had two basketball seasons in one this year. The first half of the campaign was marked by a winning attitude and confidence. With a very young team such as this, experience and skills tend to lag behind such a healthy mental outlook.

During the latter half of the season things changed dramatically. The team improved individually and the refore produced better games and more impressive statistics.

At the annual banquet the following athletes were honored: Julie Zeller, first team All-League and most valuable player; Kelly Judd, honorable mention and best contributing attitude; Kimber Ericksen, most inspirational; and Shelli Blank, most improved.

Kelly Judd uses her talents on the court by showing her form of the jump shot. 5. Julie Zeller rebounds and goes up for a bank shot.

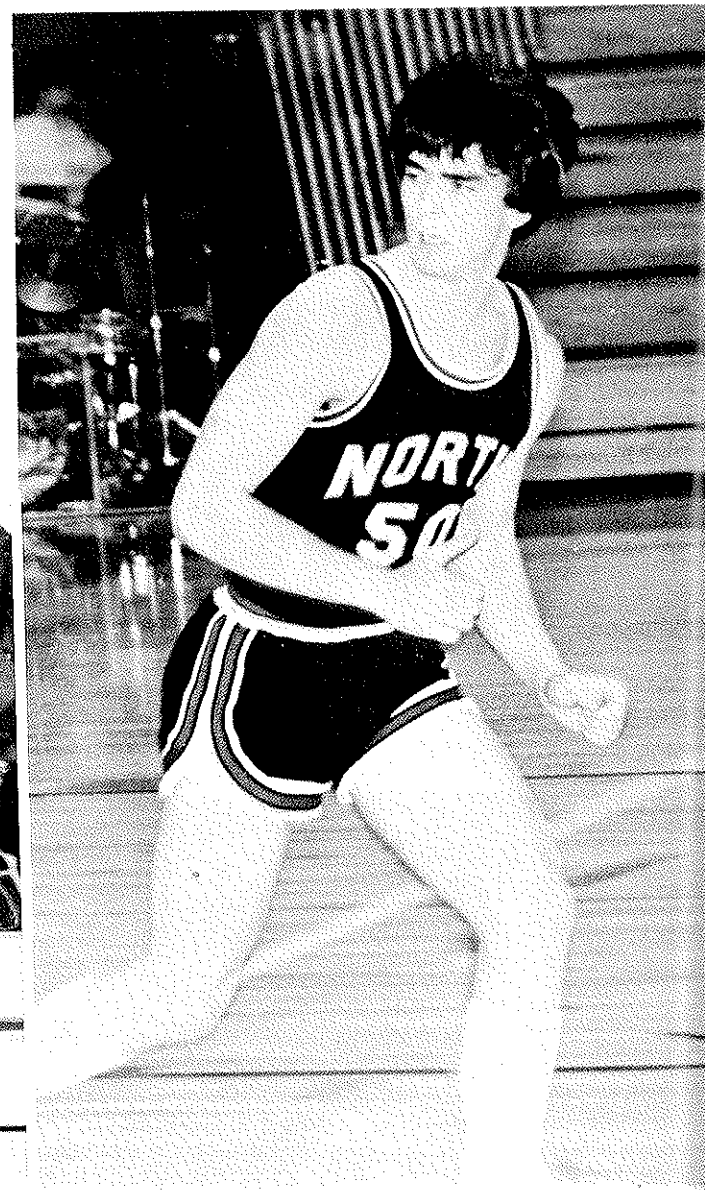

J.V.'s Have Potential

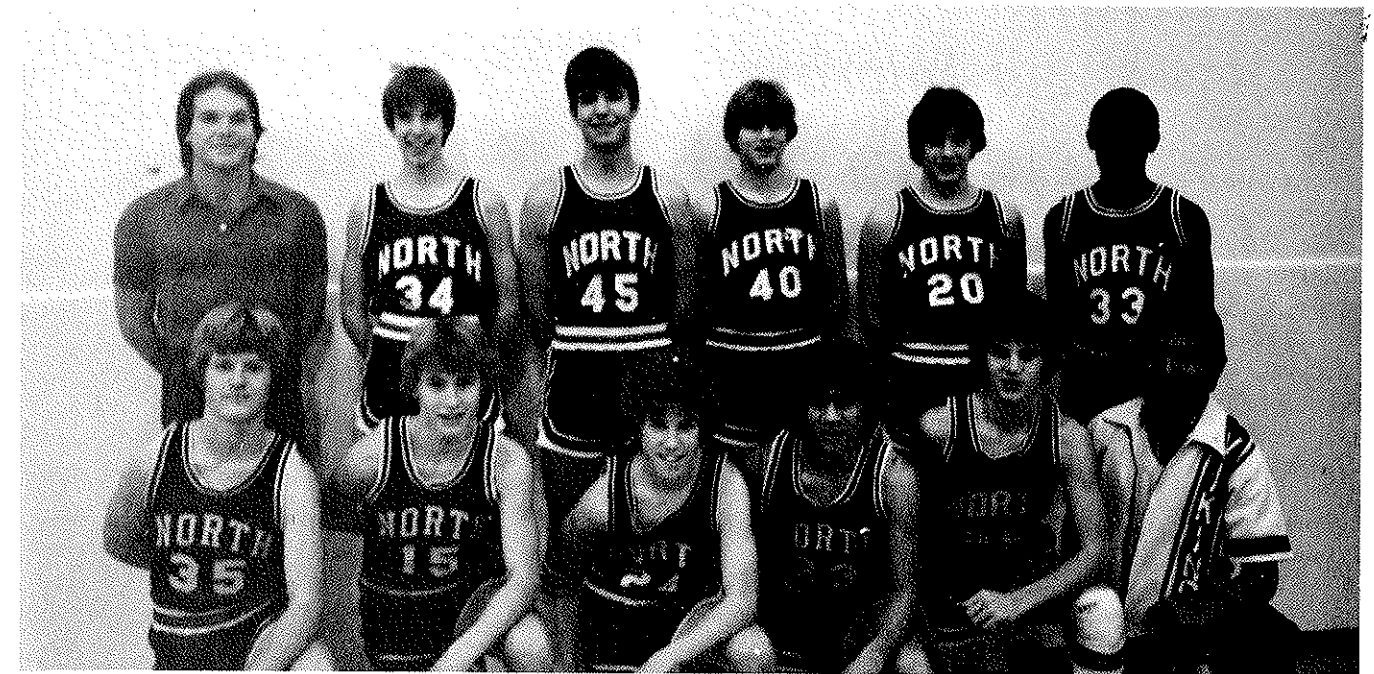

The Viking J.V.'s ended their basketball season with six wins. This year's team had a lot of improvement, and they learned how to cope with the tough Valley League. It was big learning process, and many games were close. Coach Shepard commented that, "They need to gain confidence to beat the bigger and stronger teams."

This year's awards went to: Most Valuable, Randy June; Most Inspirational, Paul Randall; Most Improved, Eric Bond.

Overall this year's team was a top group of people, with a lot of enthusiasm and potential. "Our young Viks represent a big youth movement, with their strengths in the years to come," says Shepard.

Sophomore Boys Improve

The boys sophomore basketball team had a learning season. Under the coaching of John Bartlett, they won nine out of twenty games.

This record is one of the finest turned in by a sophomore team in recent years. Things look very good for varsity prospects during the year of 1982-1983.

J.V. Girls Work and Improve

Improvement was what the J.V. girls basketball team worked for all season long. This goal was achieved by the team as they showed character and spirit. By sticking with the team and supporting each other, the members had a successful season, even though they didn't have a win.

Al Zeek trained the girls in the fundamentals, such as shooting, passing and rebounding. Some of it paid off, because the scores improved as the season progressed. Gretchen Arnold had the team's high season with 95 points. Becky Milleman has the second highest season score with 70. Zeek said, "There are rewards that just don't show up on the scoreboard. Award for most valuable player goes to Gretchen Arnold and award for most improved goes to Linda Shearer."

Frosh Build Good Record

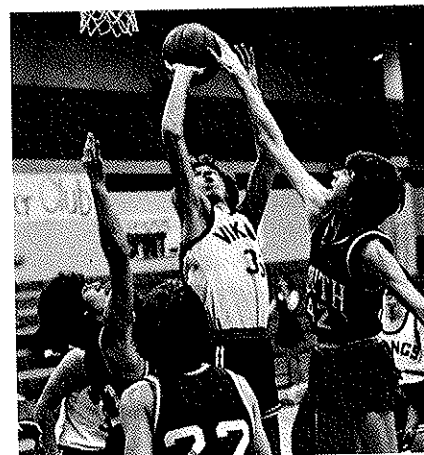

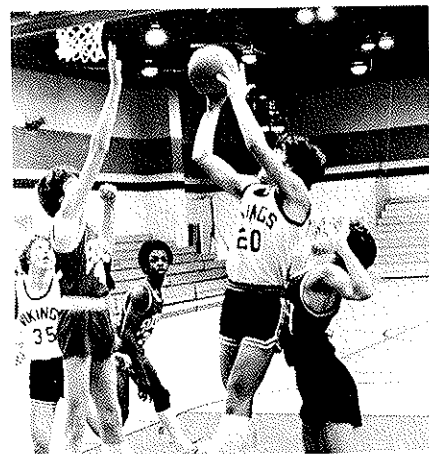

The 1982 frosh basketball women built the finest record of any freshman Viking team throughout the past years at North. According to Coach Carl Shinkle, this was due to outstanding dedication and hard work by the young Viks.

Jamie Fairbanks was honored as Most Valuable Player. She also set a school record by scoring 186 points this season. Kim Cooper and Amy Kelso earned the Most Improved Award. Most Inspirational was honored to Susan Schaberg.

Little Viks Rip!

1981-82 marked the third year that North has fielded a freshman basketball team. Each year the quality seems to improve. This year the hard work and dedication by the frosh was outstanding. The men's freshman basketball team had a good reason this year. Coached by Tim Rouhier, they had six wins out of a twenty-two season. With six wins this year it should give the little viks some good things to look forward to.

Young Leads Viking Swimmers

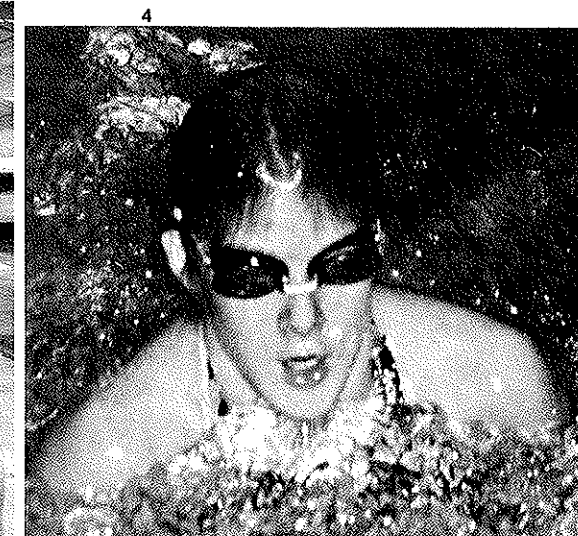

January 21 was a good day indeed for the swimmers of North High. On that Thursday the South Albany team fell to the Viking women.

Although the majority of the season was not as bright, there were individual performances that were outstanding.

The team, under coach Jane Loverin, was led by junior Lisa Young who went all the way to the 500 freestyle in the state tournament, and placed fifth in that event. The team is looking for good things from its sophomores and juniors next year.

Queen Julie Reigns Over Winter Court

Tradition struck again here at North Salem High School. This year's Winter Court celebration was a big success for the second year running.

The court consisted of both princes and princesses, and a King and Queen. The royalty was chosen on the basis of school spirit and pride, and participation in school activities.

Elf Sale Highlights Christmas week

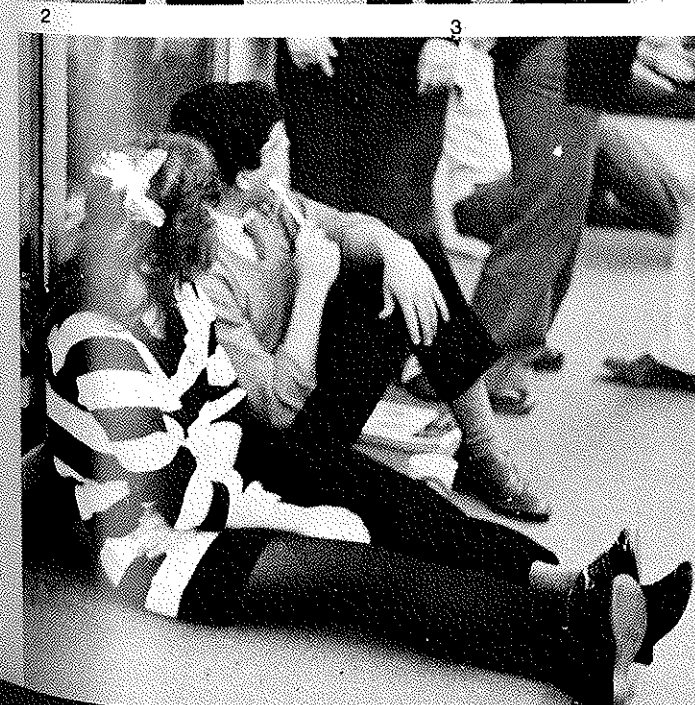

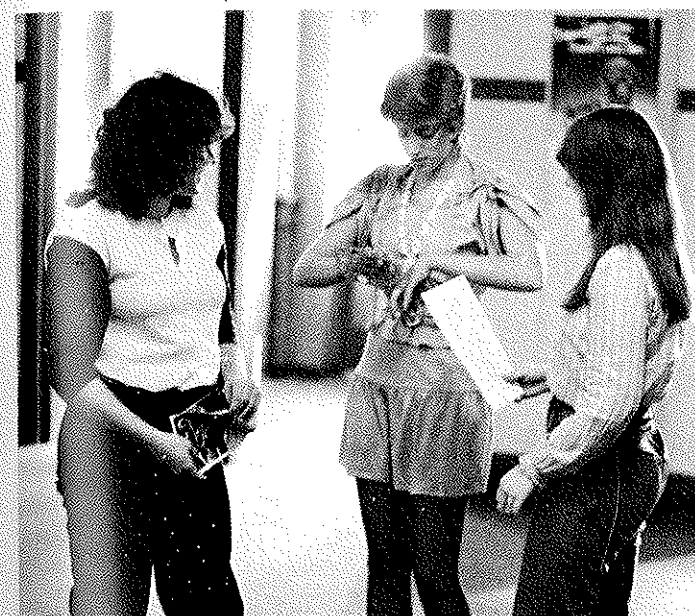

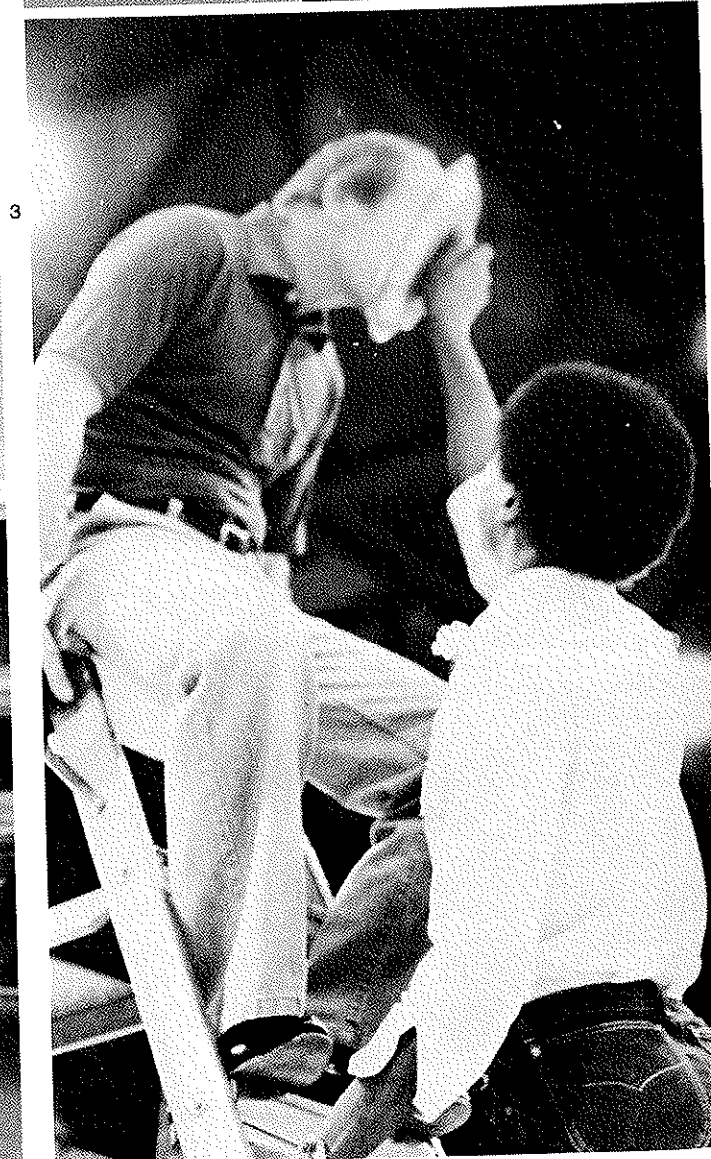

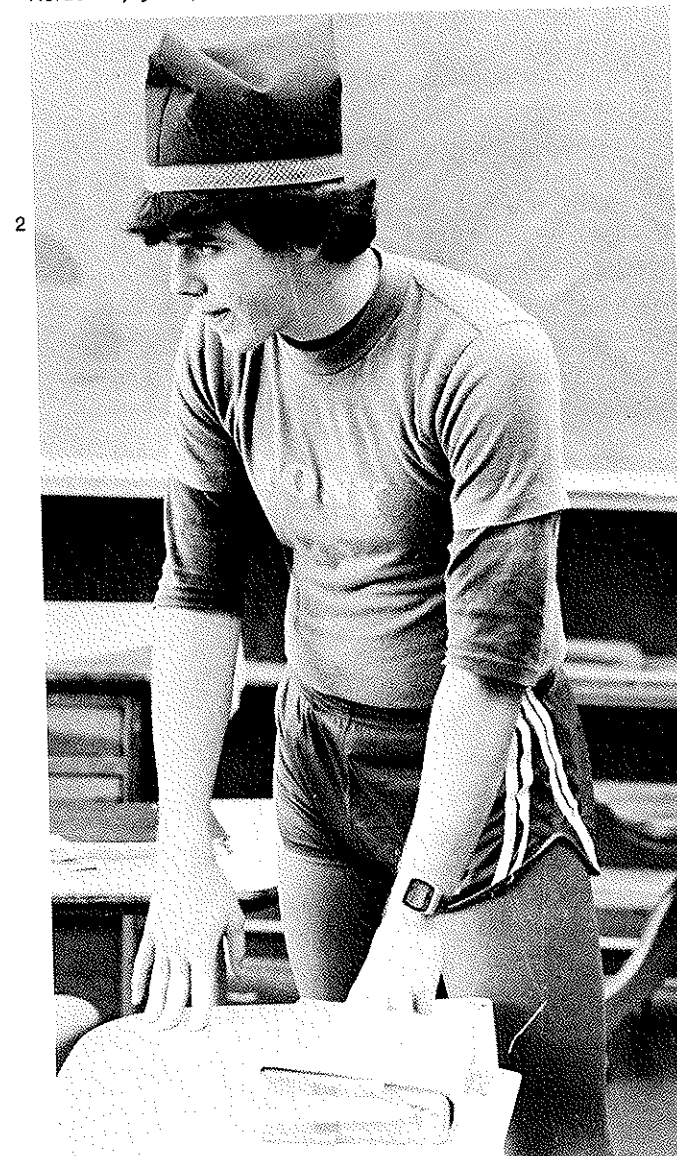

Vikings showed their spirit the week before Christmas vacation by participating in various events.

At the beginning of the week an elf auction was conducted. The following day, the elves that were employed had to be their buyer's slaves for the whole day. They did everything they were told, in most cases.

There were other contests such as the jello contest to see who could eat a heaping bowl of jello fastest, the ski contest, the chain length race and various other relays.

This exciting week boosted our Viking spirit even higher! Good job Viks!

Viks Turn Punky and Preppy

Punks and preps led the way into the wildest and best spirit week yet. Many students participated in the dress up days including uniform, pajama, dress nice, and punk and preppy days. Students were judged on their costumes and received awards at the winter court assembly.

Noontime activities included relays. One relay had boys dress in girls clothes, and the other had three students from each class eat a half-gallon of ice-cream apiece!

Class spirit was so great that there was a tie between the sophomores and the juniors in the class competitions.

1. Two Vikings race through a male/female costume change. 2. Carla Fishburne shows off her costume. 3. Joanne Gascon and Joey Brisso relax on punk and preppy day. 4. April Conklin takes a chow break while attending spirit week activities.

Charley's Aunt Highlights Winter

CHARLEY'S AUNT was not only a well staged comedy but it revealed hard work on the part of a great many people connected with its production. Set in turn-of-the century England. The story revolves around the idea of two young Oxford students enlisting the aid of a fellow student to impersonate Charley's Aunt, a wealthy widow whom none of them had met.

The results that followed were nothing short of hilarious. Especially funny were Babberley's attempts to, dressed as an old lady, outrun both Jack's and Charley's fathers as they chased her around campus proposing marriage.

North Salem's Spirit Day Ended in Victory

North Salem Vikings had the privilege of showing their overwhelming spirit to a panel of judges selected by the Seven Up bottling company on February second.

This was a very special day for all, considering North has never had the chance to participate in anything like this before in the history of the school. The Viks competed against the other Salem high schools showing their spirit in different events.

It began with a spirit breakfast for the judges. The breakfast started at 7:45 and was an event for the whole student body, administrators and parents.

After the breakfast, the judges were taken through the halls to judge the door posters which students made for every classroom door. Seven Up seemed to be the main theme for the posters.

The students were told to wear red for the event and there was an excellent turn out.

The entire school remained in good spirits 'til the end of the day when a fantastic pep assembly was held. The judges were also observing this event.

For the final and most spectacular event of the day, the boys' basketball teams played their games against South Albany. The most spirited students showed up for the games. Viking supporters yelled and cheered till they had no voices.

In the Varsity game, North was neck and neck with South Albany all the way until the last second of the game. The Viks were down by one, 35-36. The awesome Vikings were sure they would get that last basket. They had possession of the ball at their end of the court when the shot went up! In the last part of the remaining second, the rebound was snagged by Todd Evans and rifled through the hoop to win the game for North!

The entire mob of Viking fans ran onto the court yelling and screaming in celebration of the victory for their team. Evans was lifted above the awesome crowd and carried around the court.

There were tears and screams for joy as the proud Vikings eventually left for home.

Faculty Wins Again

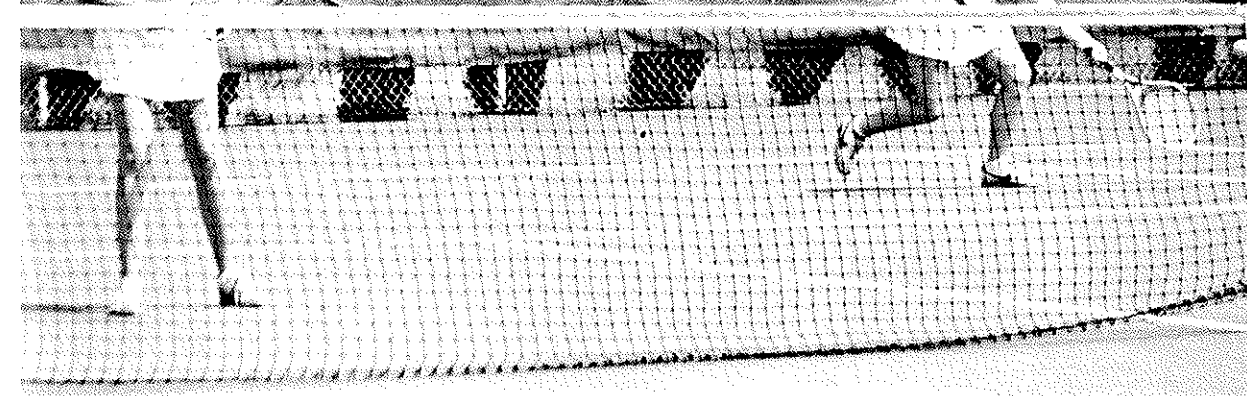

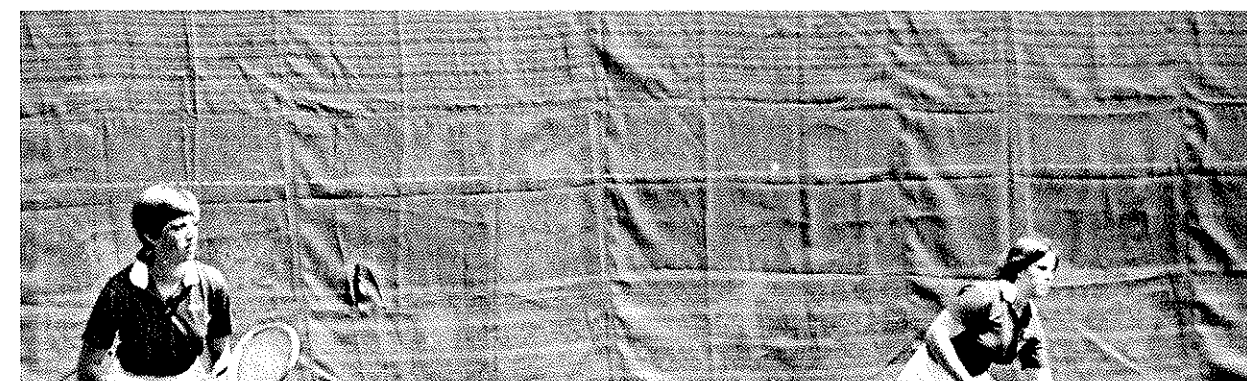

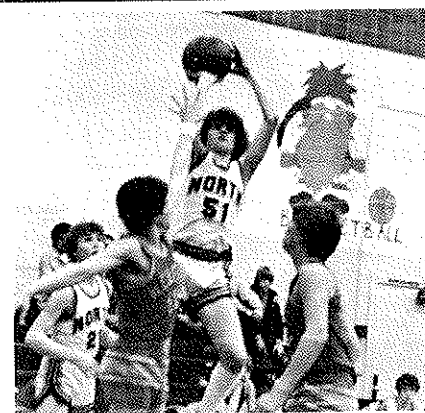

It may not have been the golden age of basketball, but it certainly was an outstanding night for golden-aged basketball players.

The men faculty kept its record unsullied with the 18th win in a row. The teachers coasted to an easy victory over the valiant seniors.

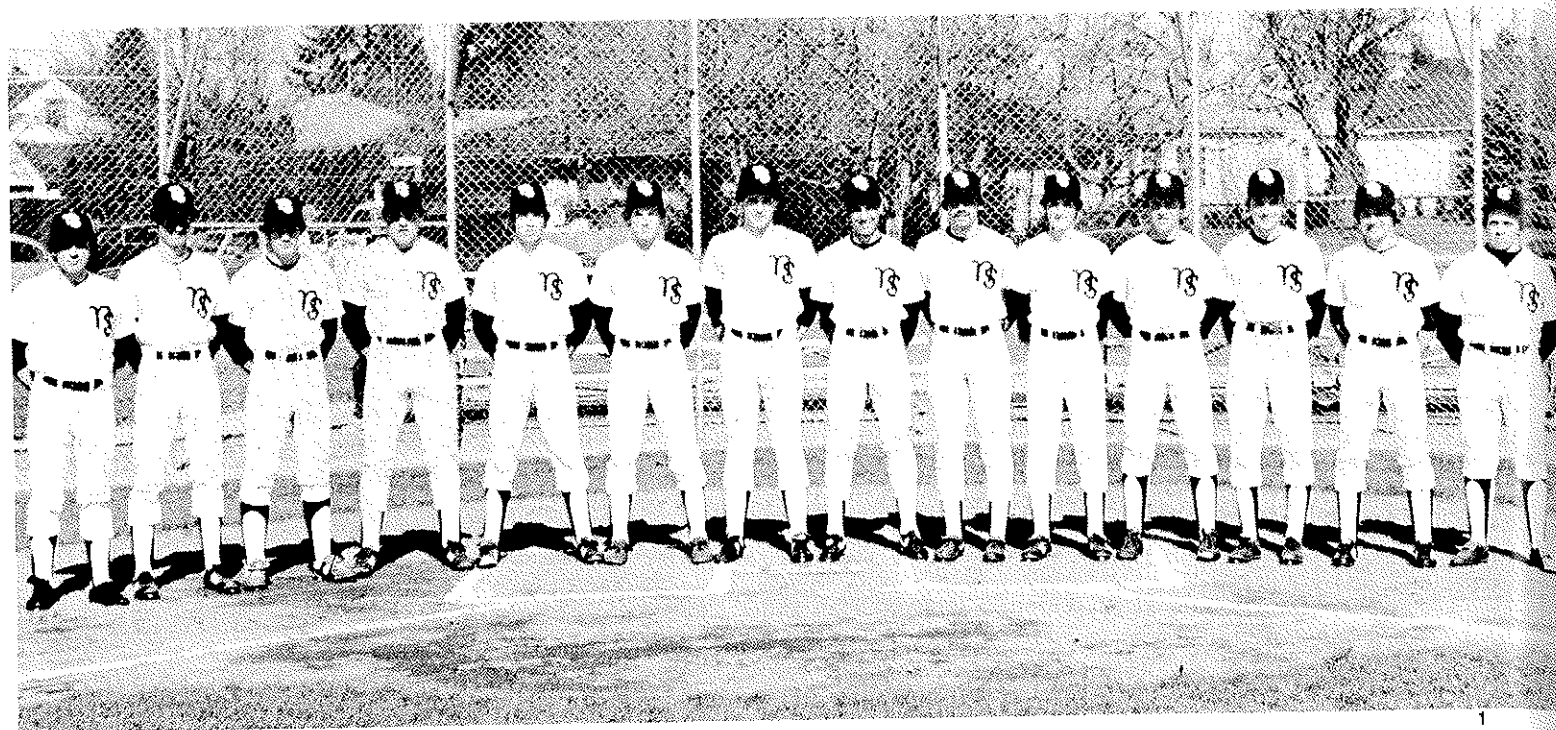

The girl's game was another story. The women faculty staged a last-minute rally and edged the seniors by two points. It was a close game, but the women faculty pulled it out in the end.

No Hitter Ends Season

This year's varsity baseball team has had a fairly good year. As of May 19, their league record was 10 and 13. The teams leading hitters were Jim Peper and Joe Brisso.

Senior Rick Waters capped a fine season by throwing a no hitter during the last game of the year. His perfect effort to victimized the Raiders at Cresnet Valley 16-0. Brisso and Waters were named to the All League First team, and Troy Coastales to the 2nd team.

Win Caps J.V. Season

The North Salem J.V. Boys' baseball team had a difficult season. The team's league record is 2 wins-11 losses.

North's last game, which was against Sprague, was sparked by a grand-slam home run by sophomore first baseman, John Madden.

Coach Bob Schuh commented, "Inconsistency has been our biggest problem this season. We have played some good ball games and have simply gotten beaten, but we have also played some poor games and beaten ourselves."

This year's 1982 J.V. players were; O.J. Warner, Randy Johnson, Derron Judd, Dave Morgon, Roman B Bostick, Curtis Beighley, John Madden, Charlie Conrad, Kevin Waters, Frank Hagen, David Baber, Curtis Scharer, Aaron Hendren, Coach Bob "Tommy Lasorda" Schuh.

(2) David Holmquist throws to teammate Greg McNeil for an out. (3) Keith Henderson warms up his arm before the game.

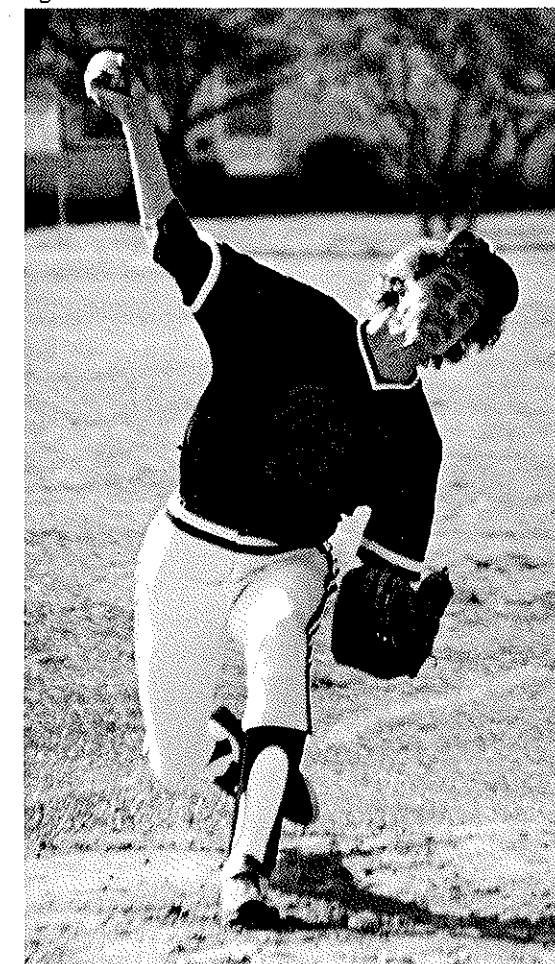

Superb Season For Frosh

What team had the best win-loss record this past spring season? None other than the freshman baseball team.

The frosh hit, fielded, and played excellent no-error baseball all season. They couldn't have asked for a better year.

Number one pitcher in the freshman league, Keith Henderson has a superb year with an 8-0 pitching record. The team ended the season with a 13-2 record.

All of the freshmen have some room for improvement but are definitely expected to be playing varsity baseball in the upcoming year.

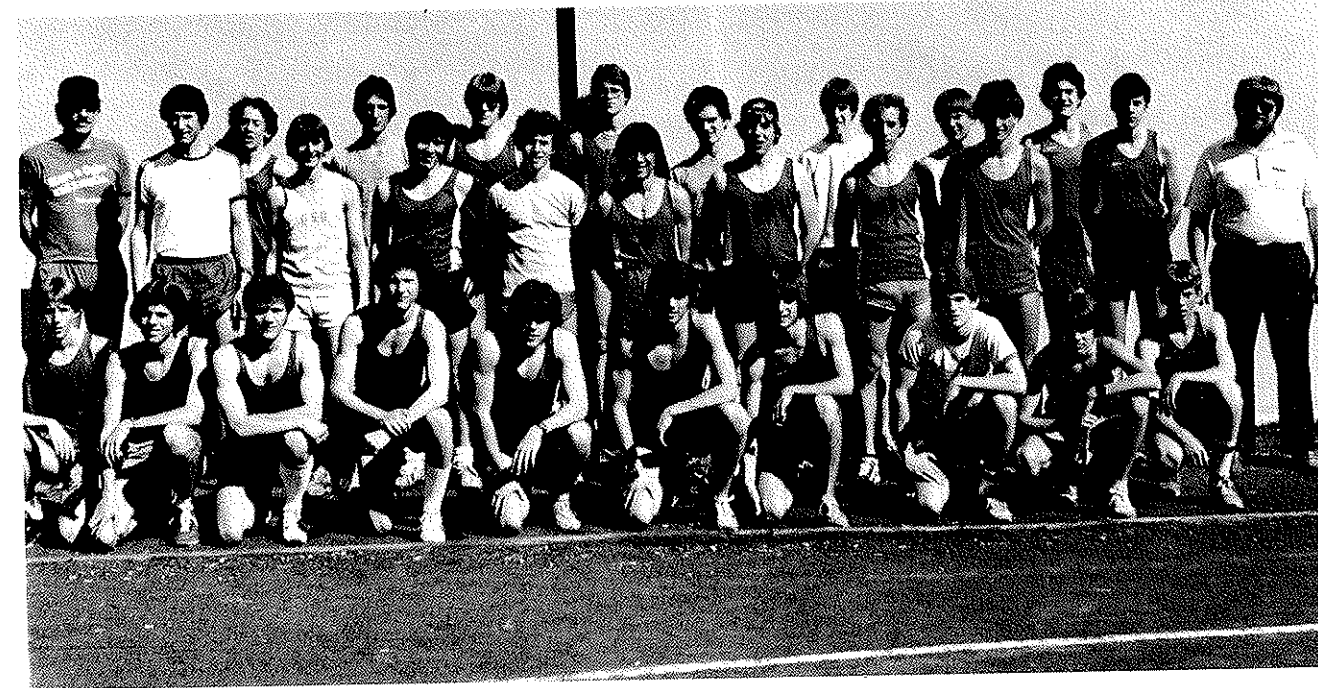

Track: Off and Running

The 1982 track team got off to a running start. For the girls, veterans Janice Giza and Scooter Turner headed a young group including Pam Weber and Nancy Martin. At district, Giza placed second to qualify for state in the high hurdles. She took first place at state with a record time, but does not count because of a strong tail wind.

For the boys, youth has held sway with junior hurdler Norman France and Sprinter Mike Jones.

Varsity girls end season with good spirits

One returning senior on a squad of 15 ball players cannot insure a sparkling performance in Oregon AAA competition. Although this was the situation this spring with the varsity Vik softball team, they showed good improvement and came up with four valuable wins. In addition, they showed a good deal of improvement toward the end of the season.

The annual team awards include: Darla Churchman, most improved; Tersa Bowers, most inspirational; and Shawnee Topping, most valuable player. Topping was also selected to All-League first team and Annette Garrison was chosen second team All-League.

J.V. Softball Players are Outstanding

North Salem's J.V. softball team had a good season. At the beginning of the year, the junior Vikings lost three of their starting players, who ended up starting for the Varsity team. As the season progressed, the girls played well, winning an exceptionally good game against Sprague.

The team's win-loss record was .500 with a better outlook for next year.

Frosh Have Tough Season

According to coach Freitag, the frosh softball team had a tough season. Several freshman were transferred to the J.V. team, and frosh players were not experienced.

They progressed game after game and ended the season in a very competitive position.

Linksters work for improvement

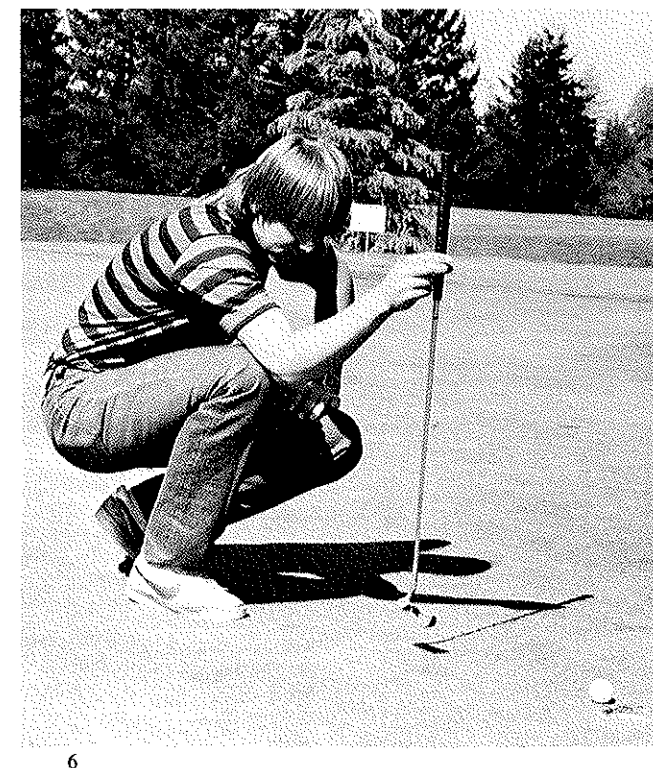

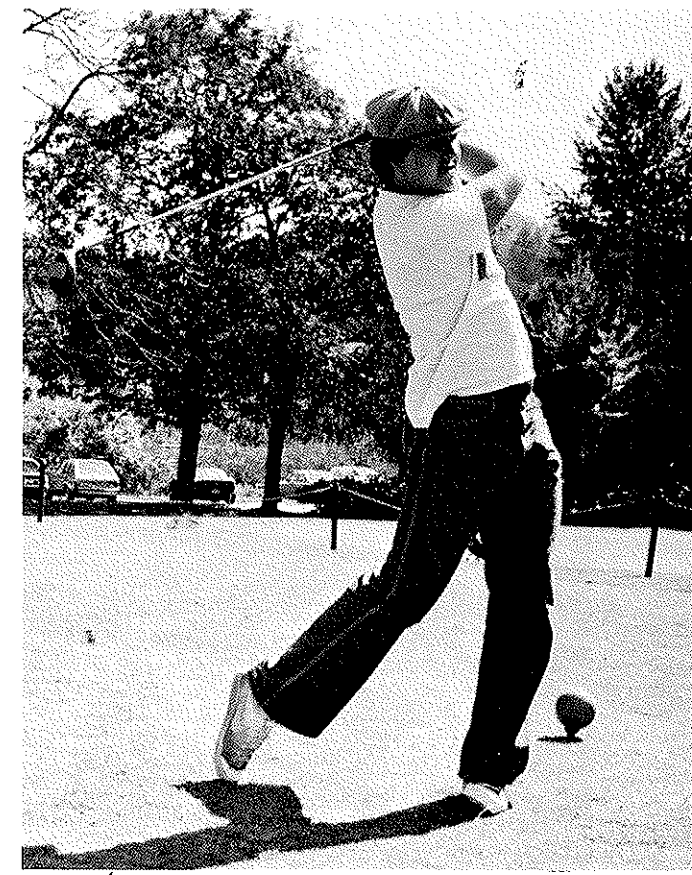

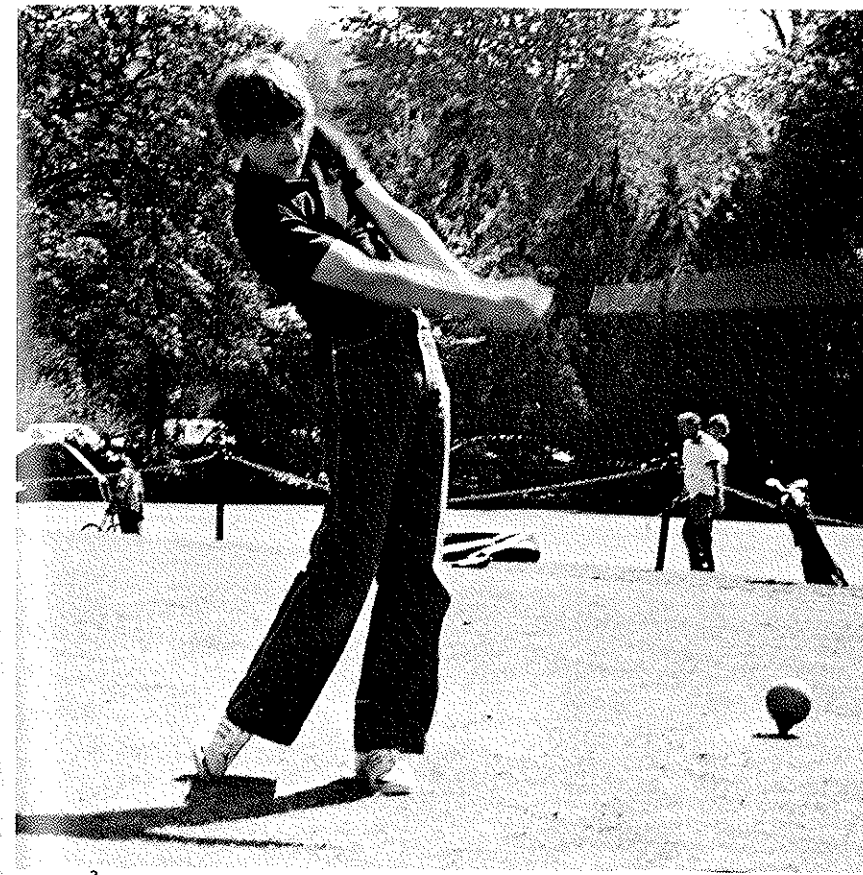

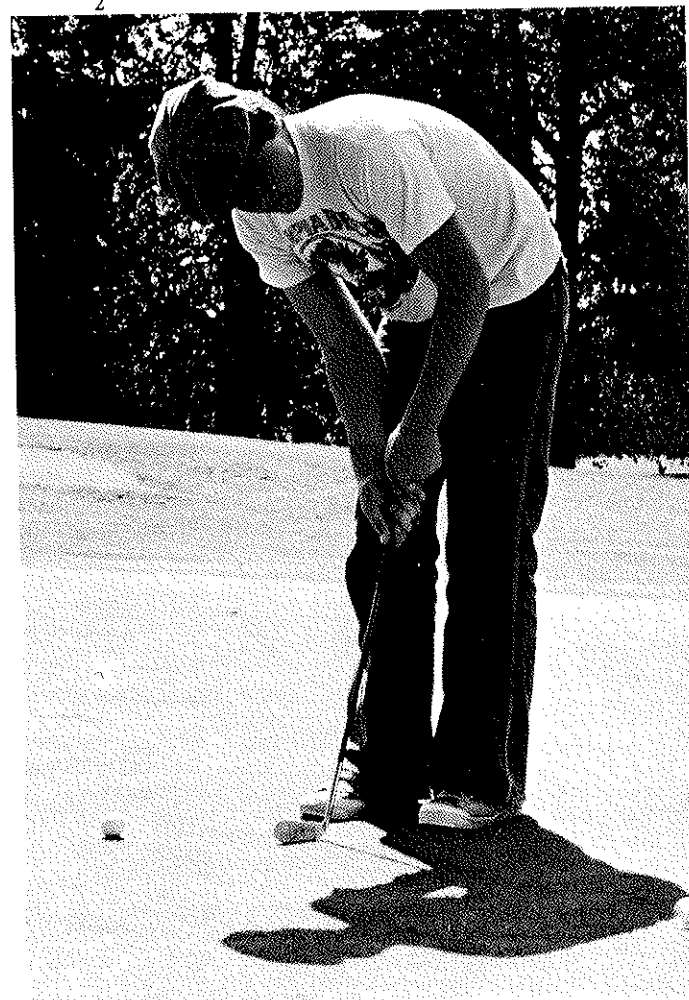

The men's golf team worked hard this year for improvement and enjoyment. With a small turnout of only seven golfers, and only three returning lettermen, Coach Andy Sheldon had to spend lots of time teaching the fundamentals of the game. Sheldon is hoping for a better season next year with five returning golfers.

Randy Grinberg and Steve Jenkinson consistently had the low scores for the Vikings.

Although they experienced a disappointing season, finishing ninth at district, they never stopped trying and had fun.

Executive Council Keeps Busy

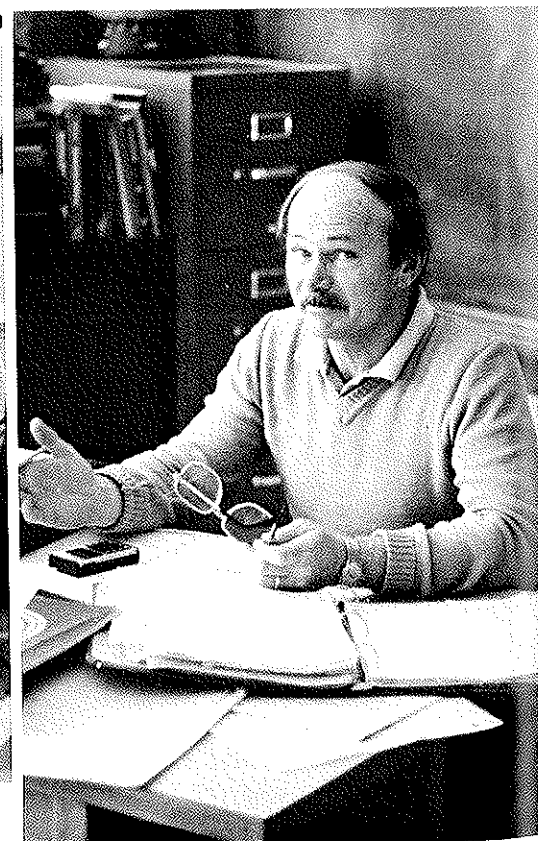

The Executive Council is made up of the student body officers, all of the class presidents, and a rally representative. These officers worked together to discuss school orientated issues, and to keep the government running smoothly.

The council meets every Wednesday morning at 7:15 to discuss upcoming activities, headed by ASB President David Gerlach, and Activity Advisor Stan Kerzel.

Activities such as Homecoming, Winter Court, Spirit Week, and 7-up Spirit Day were planned through these officers. The group worked through committees to try to have one lunch, and there was cooperation from the whole student body. This year's Viketts were considered an activity and in return will be receiving an "NS" letter.

Under consideration now is a Standards of Excellence Program which boost North's school spirit and participation.

Vikings Bleed For Charity

The only thing more successful than the 1981 Viking blood drive was the 1982 drawing. Once again, the Vikings of North Salem demonstrated a high degree of civic responsibility as well as personal courage.

A total of 235 pints of whole blood was collected for the American Red Cross. This should ensure the Viks of more certificates to add to those earned last year.

Germans Keep Interest

The 1981-82 school year was full of activities for the German Club. In the fall the club participated in a foreign language picnic at Silver Creek Falls with the other clubs here at North. In December was the annual winterfest at Willamette University in the W.I.S.H. Finally in March the Deutsch Klub went to the Rheinlander restaurant to have a filling meal of good German food.

This year the officers of the German Club were President; Randy Grinberg, Vice President; April Conklin, and Eric Zimbelman, Jim Phillips; advisor. "The Enthusiasm of the whole club made this a very fun year. The members were very active with most of them participating in every activity" said President Randy Grinberg.

Continental Cuisine Consumed By Group

This year's French Club took a trip to a fine French cuisine called Chez Moustache, located in Aurora, Oregon.

The club was also very active. They sold candied French Gumi Bears and Toblerones, which are French chocolate bars.

A raffle was held for a $20.00 dinner for two, which went to Cecilia Belo. And a $5.00 breakfast for two, which went to Patricia Holt.

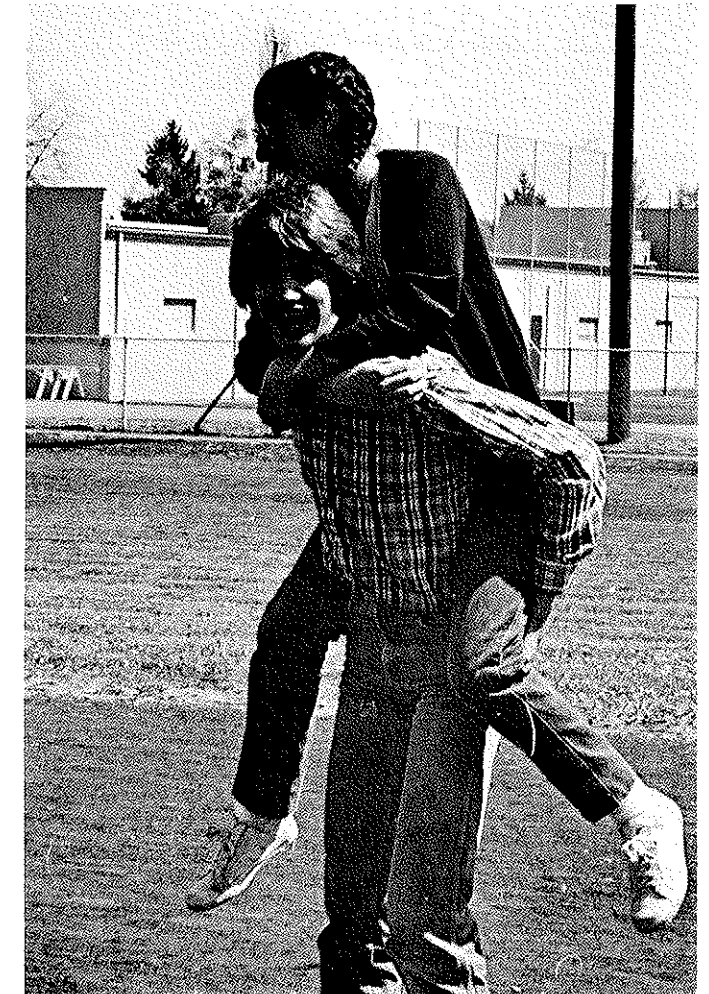

International food day was held on October 10th and the club sold crepes.

The organization officers this year were: President Liisa Bauman, Vice President, Cecilia Belo, Treasurer, Dia Dissmore and Secretary, Amy Ero-vick.

Spanish club has banner year

The Spanish Club is an organization open to all students enrolled in Spanish classes at North.

The varied activities and projects, all with an exotic flavor, add much interest and realism to the study of a foreign language. This group has grown to impressive size over recent years. If growth indicates success, the foreign language department is obviously enjoying a banner year.

Club Stages Drama

When people visualize a Drama Club, they usually think about a special group of actors. In reality, it is an organization dealing with students from all four corners of the theater. Without these folks, school plays would be out of the question.

The Drama Club raises all the money for theatrical presentation, promotes the play, and constructs the props.

This organization travels to grade schools to introduce a new form of art (drama) to the youngsters there. Many times this sparks an early interest in this fascinating area.

ANOTHER WINNING YEAR

North has a long-standing tradition of outstanding Rally Squads. 1981-82 was no exception to this.

Rally is not all fun. It takes a lot of hard work and is very time consuming.

To go out for Rally, one must have a 2.5 GPA, be passing all classes, and have good attendance.

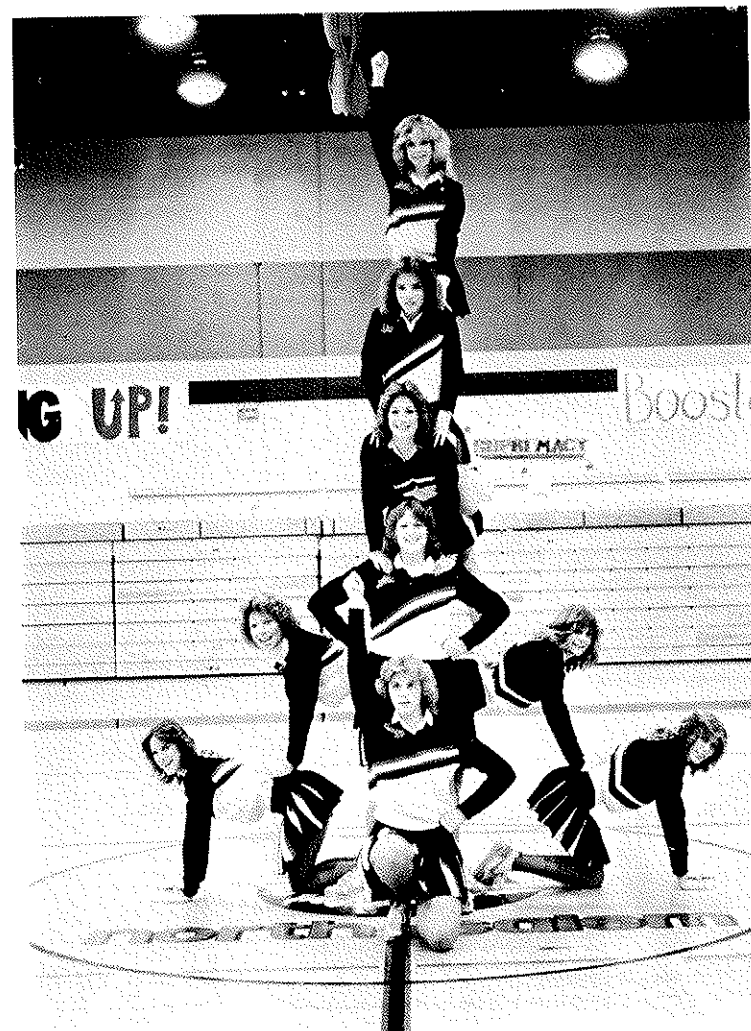

Prior to Rally try-outs, the candidates must successfully complete the screening process. This screening includes Teacher Evaluation, a Personal Interview and Performance screening.

The selection committee consists of Administration, faculty, student government, and Varsity Rally Members.

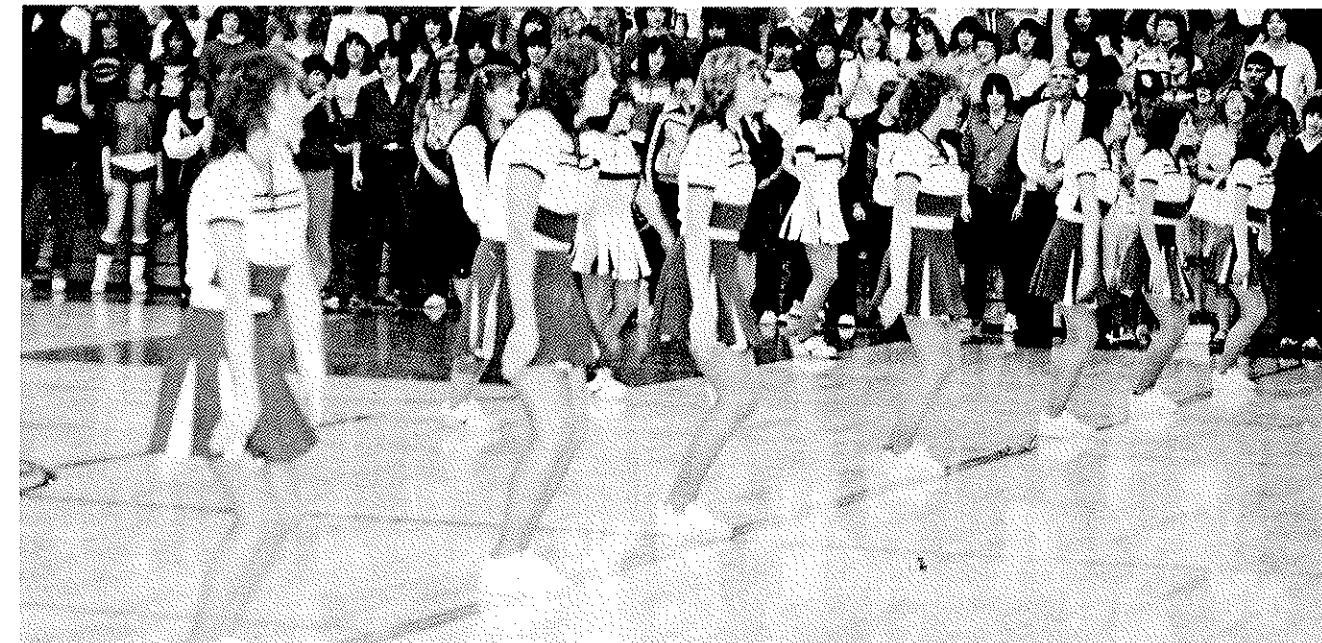

Responsibilities of the Rally Squad include performing at designated events, assisting with pep assemblies, spirit weeks and other official spirit functions for the entire school year.

Last Summer the Varsity Rally went to summer camps and won a collection of superior ribbons and trophies.

The Varsity Rally was involved in the Bon Marche Cheer-off and took 2nd place.

J.V. Rally Gains Experience.

In the athletics, a junior varsity team is a training ground for varsity athletes. The same is true for junior varsity rally squads. Even if the individual candidates have had junior high school experience, entering the arena of cheerleading for a major high school is an entirely new and challenging experience.

The 1981-82 Viking Junior Varsity Rally squad met this challenge with a first class performance. Such a performance does not just happen. It comes from long hours of hard work and dedication. This promises good things for future varsity squads at North.

Frosh Girls Learn By Experience

The freshmen rally was selected by a panel of judges including students, faculty, administrators and rally members.

The four girls who make up the rally are: Julie Heberline, Sophia Yager, Michelle Rogers, and Cammy Keillor. None of these had previous experience on rally but, showed considerable talent for continuing development into a truly fine varsity squad.

The duties of the frosh rally squad are to help plan and prepare for pep assemblies, make posters for their team and our schools, and also lead cheering sections for the sophomore basketball team as well as the frosh basketball team.

Dedication Makes Winners

The individual Viketts began their year by performing a routine in front of 5 judges, one being the advisor, Karen Jones.

Once they were selected, they began early morning and evening practices throughout the summer.

If some of the girls were not in shape when they began, they certainly were by the end of the summer. Their grueling fitness program started at 7:00 a.m. with running, sit-ups, and various other stretches and exercises.

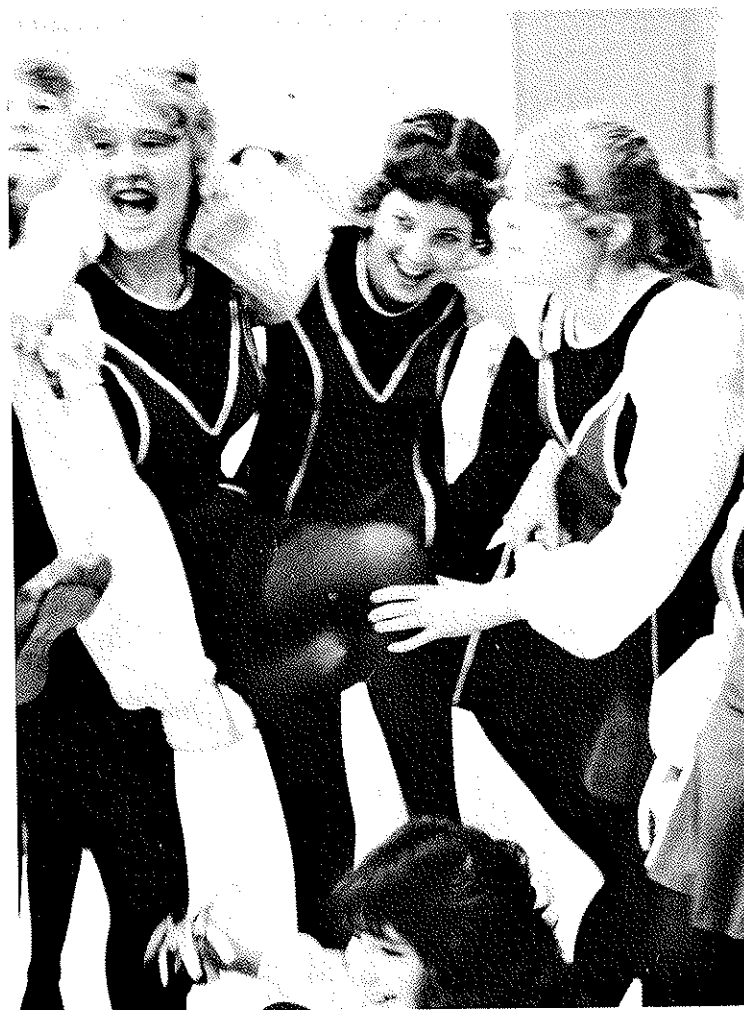

Our Viketts worked hard on fund raisers during the summer and during the year to pay for their uniforms, and other expenses that go with Viketts.

Three competitions were conducted this year by different schools and the Viketts were competitive in each of them.

McKay High School sponsored the first one and the Viketts placed fourth. At Springfield they managed to really put on a show and got 2nd place. At Stayton High School the Viketts took 3rd.

Throughout all of these competitions the Viketts had to compete in a dance division rather than drill, where they normally perform.

At state competition our Viketts performed to the song "Bad Cats" with drummer Robbie Jaynes furnishing the entrance and exit rhythm. They competed against other drill teams and got a 2nd place for their two stunning performances and several standing ovations.

The Future Business Leaders of America is a professional student organization designed to help members with their career goals in the business field.

The North High FBLA chapter had a particularly successful year in 1982. In April the group made a three day trip to Portland to attend state-wide competition.

North's chapter received the "Gold Seal Award of Merit", and a Certificate of Appreciation from the State Association of the March of Dimes in recognition for the services our Chapter had given, and we received a third place trophy for our Chapter Newsletter. Individual competitors who placed in their skill events were; Sanche Strutevant, fifth in Business Communications and Jim Swearingen, fifth in Data Processing.

This summer they are looking forward to being represented at the National Leadership Competition to be held in July at Indianapolis, Indiana.

Foreign Lands Send Vikings

Each year the student body of North High greets Vikings from exotic and faraway lands. This is made possible through the efforts of American Field Service, an international organization dedicated to aiding students who wish to live in a foreign land for a year while attending school.

The 1981-1982 AFS exchange students at North included Cecilia Belo of Portugal (3), Annabel Kean from New Zealand (2), Yoko Mizuno, a native of Japan (1), and Upendra Ranaweera who calls Sri Lanka home (4).

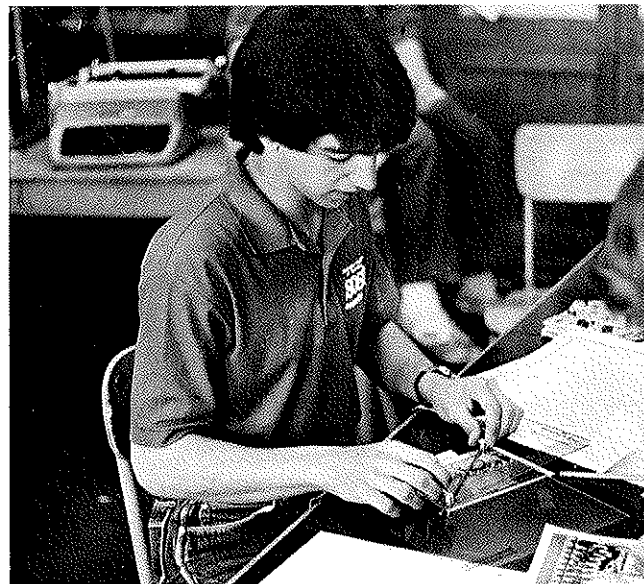

Annual Staff Survives

The Viking yearbook was headed by editor Randy Grinberg and his assistants Kelly Judd, Rod Wright and Tully Williams. Photo editor Troy Miller, put forth a lot of hard work and furnished the pictures for this edition.

The tough chore of assembling a book such as this becomes really difficult at deadline time, but teamwork and cooperation prevailed and all difficulties were overcome.

The yearbook staff is grateful to all cooperating teachers, coaches, and advisers as well as community members for information and aid freely offered. Without them, this difficult chore would have been made nearly impossible.

New Dress For Old Paper

A new nameplate was designed for an old high school newspaper this winter. Since the first time it began publishing in 1904, the Clarion was printed with an illustration of a clarinet on page one.

It took a bit of research to locate an illustration of the ancient instrument. Aaron Lahman drew the final edition in November, and it was printed the rest of the winter.

Under the leadership of co-editors Tony Gascon and Shannon O'Hara, and all the usual publication problems including deadlines and finances were smoothly worked out.

Large Choir Has Active Season

North Salem's Concert choir was very active this year. This year's choir was also the biggest choir ever for North with 75 students on the roster.

Some of the choir's major performances included the Christmas festival at the Capitol building, singing at the U.S. bank, the Mid-Valley Choral festival, and the City Choral festival.

Included in the major performances were the four school concerts. In addition, the group cut a record.

Fund raising's included selling candles, and rummage sales for a trip and for music equipment.

Students dedicated to music

The art of playing a stringed musical instrument takes many years to learn. The students in North's orchestra are in the process of mastering these instruments which range from violins to string bass. Under the guidance of Steven Nelson, the results have been obvious in the improved quality of winter and spring concerts.

Student Cars are Prized Symbols

Boosters Appreciated

The North Salem Booster Club was first founded in 1972. Since that time, North parents have played a viable role in promoting "VIKING PRIDE".

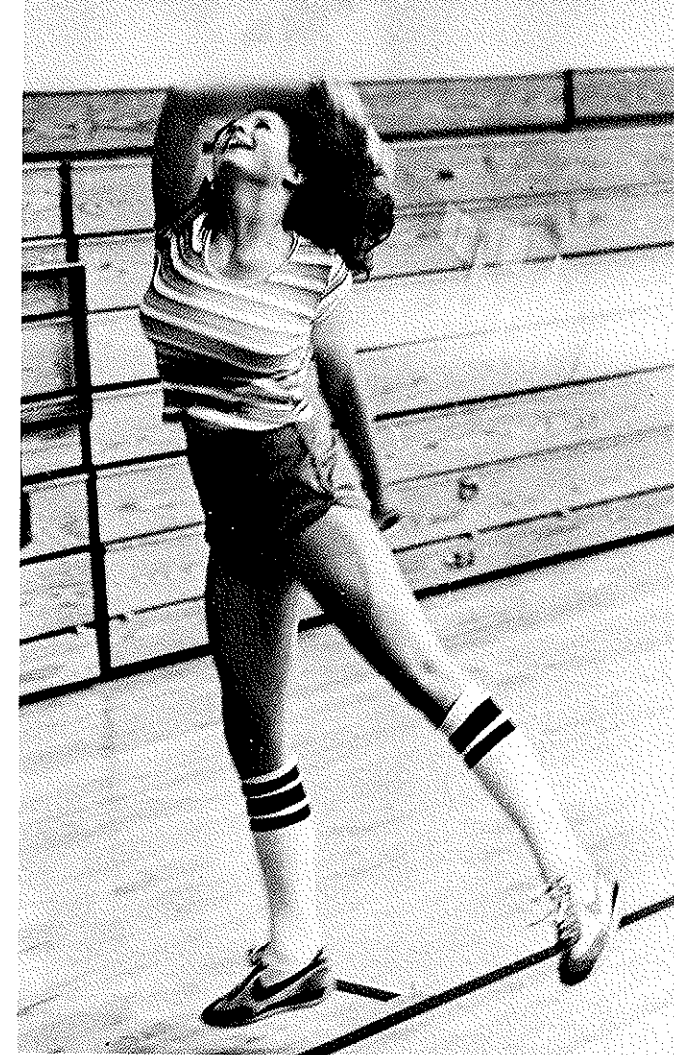

Boosters support all activities, sports and the performing and non-performing arts according to their needs.

The main source of Booster money comes from concession stand sales which North parents provide for every home event throughout the year. In addition Boosters assist various clubs with popcorn sales to meet the group's expenses.

For the first time, the Booster Board presented two $250 scholarships. Scholarships were awarded on the bases of grade point average and the students involvement in North High.

Honored Language Students Chosen

Among the very select organizations at North to which students can aspire is the Spanish National Honor Society. It is obvious that membership is restricted to scholarly students when the 4.0 GPA in Spanish classes is considered.

Once a student is accepted for his honor, the membership becomes a lifetime affair. Under the leadership of adviser Judy Daugherty, interest in the group has bloomed and membership increased.

From the Principal

When I look at this 1982 school year, I do so with pride: pride in student accomplishment; and pride in our community. I sense a new awareness of the importance of belonging and caring for each other; and becoming a proud part of the history at North Salem High School. Thank you, and I salute you for doing your part to make our school our home.

Longtime Counselor Retires

This year's program's consisted of college visitations, new student orientations, and personal counseling.

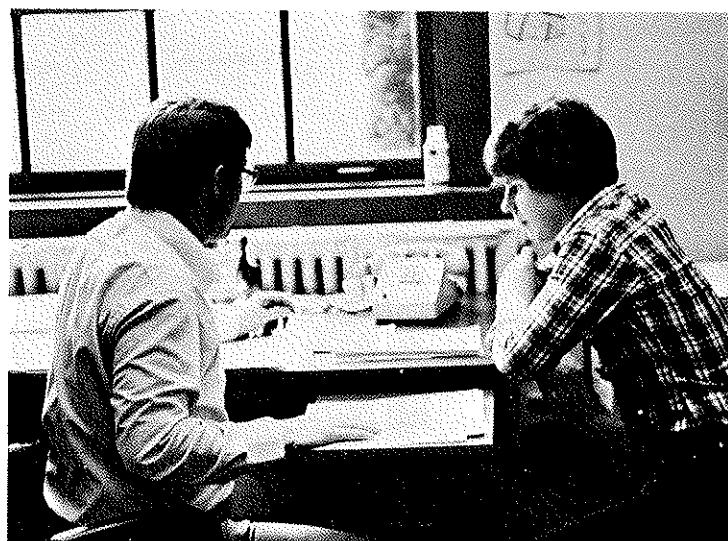

Along with the problems of scheduling courses and advising students, the counselors help students with social and family problems.

Ken Brophy's retirement affected our school very much. He had been with North Salem for 32 years. Lee Hibler said that, "Mr. Brophy gave a lot of years to North Salem, and he was so well liked by everyone." Brophy's replacement is Nancy Guile, who is from Scott Elementary school, where she was a teacher. She is planning special activities, and her enthusiasm is welcomed.

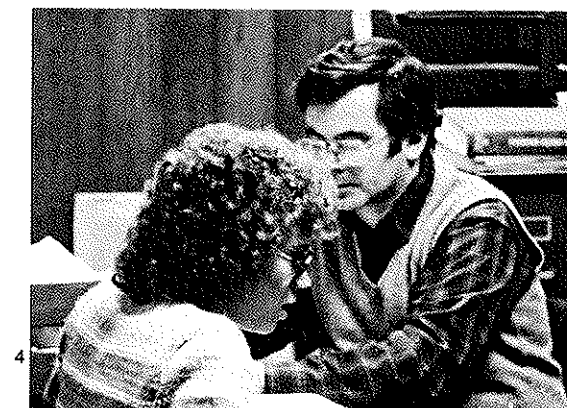

North High's counselors are concerned with the students. The counselors goals are to help students organize their present and future lives.

Classified Staff Appreciated

Various teams of specialists are necessary to run an educational complex the size of North Salem High. Among these are Janitorial crews, Office Staff, Librarians, and Media experts.

These people put in a lot of time and effort to make our school function. Even though some of these people are rarely seen by students, their efforts are appreciated and we are proud to recognize them here.

NORTH ART SHARPENS UP

An old saying is that "A picture is worth a thousand words." Well, whether it is a picture, pottery, or graphic art, students enjoy producing works of art through North's art department.

With a full, well-educated staff, under the direction of Phyllis Briscoe, the teachers do an outstanding job instructing students in different art fields.

Although most students have no intention of creating a career in the art fields, this area has to be one of the most enjoyable places for students to spend a portion of their school day. In addition, these students will be able to make use of the skills learned here to enrich their lives throughout their adult years.

English Department Blossoms

Increasing the individual student's writing ability level was the goal of the Language Arts Department for the 1981-1982 school year according to Department Chairperson Gary Ritchie.

"Problems regarding the convenience of the computer, location of students, scheduling of testing, and overall student attitude toward the testing were overcome as the Language Arts staff through their perseverance, cooperation and total man hours spent, helped identify and prepare students to achieve desired writing levels," Ritchie explained.

"Accomplishments of the department included an increase in the number of offered advanced placement classes and an increase in course enrollment. Four sections of advanced Freshmen composition and one section of advanced Sophomore composition were added to the curriculum. Also, several previously offered electives were deleted and other more beneficial courses such as public speaking and journalism were added." Ritchie further stated, "that almost 100 percent of the student body was enrolled in at least one Language Arts course and of that 33 percent were taking additional English classes."

New Additions Join Foreign Language

The Foreign Language department has a slightly new name— International Language. Along with teaching how to speak an exotic language, the department also teaches foreign students the English language.

There is a new face on the International Language department staff. New ESL teacher, Carol Barrieau. She teaches English to students whose native language is not English. She also helps international students with work from other classes. Barrieau is a welcome addition to the International Language team of Judy Daughtery, Jan Humber, and Jim Phillips.

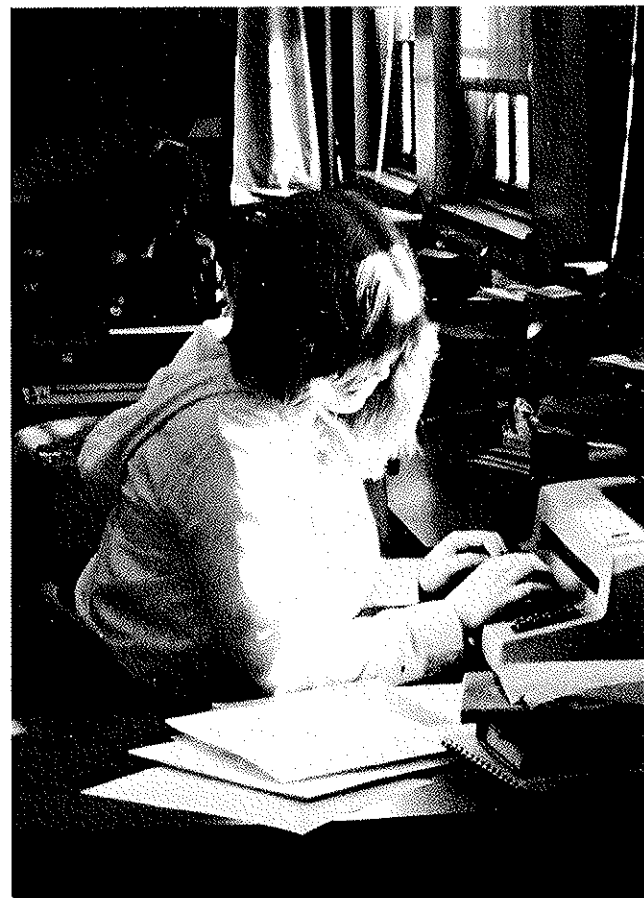

Business Dept. Is In Business

Two business enterprises which are self supporting and financially independent have found a home in the business department at North. Both the School store and Model Office operate under the able leadership of the business education staff headed up by Joyce McFadden. These two businesses are almost totally supported by their own profits.

The business department offers a wide selection of skill classes such as Advanced Typing, model Office, Accounting, Office Relations and Practices, School Store, Cooperative Work Experience in Marketing, and Office Occupations.

These classes enable a student to gain job entry level skills. The students have the opportunity to be involved in DECA and FBLA offered by the business department.

The school store has increased its income over previous years, and they are expanding their inventory all the time. Model Office is expanding its business. Model Office is almost totally supported by private businesses and individuals outside of school.

A Different Way Of Teaching

For the last two or three years, Personal Finance at North instructed it a different way from the other schools in Salem. Personal Finance pulled away from the usual text book work. The staff has developed it so that the student's work would be more realistic compared to what is happening out in the public.

As with all required courses, Personal Finance suffers from a public relations problem among students. The new trend towards realism in the classroom has helped many students realize that the skills taught are indeed necessary for a successful life in any career.

P.E. Improves Classes

The Health and Physical Education department makes learning fun. The P.E. department offers classes like volleyball, basketball, swimming, tennis and more. This year, swimming is required for three weeks for freshmen and sophomores for graduation credit.

A major change in the Physical Education department this year is the weight-training classes, which is becoming very popular. There is the possibility of additional classes because of increased demand.

An outlook for next year in the Health department is the addition of a one-year class in the medical field which is vocational exploration for one semester, and advanced anatomy, and physiology for second semester. There is even a possibility of on-the-job training in this area in the future.

Sewing Ties Up Odd's and Ends

Interest in the south end of the building is becoming more and more popular. Vikings who associate in this end know why it is becoming so well liked.

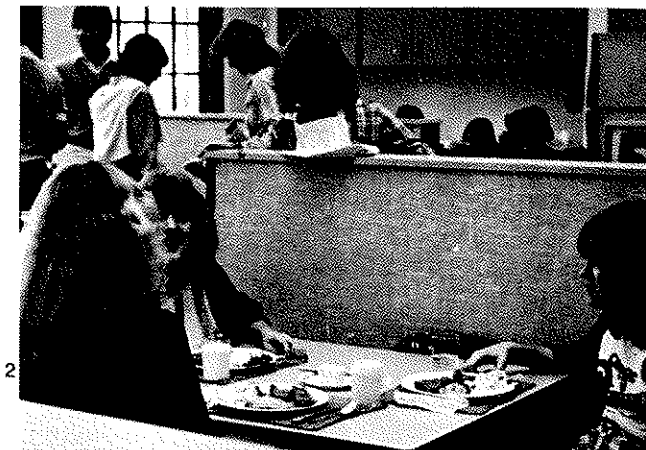

Well, it is because of the Home Economics program.

Anyone involved can tell you what an excellent program it is. The courses include sewing, cooking, childcare, and human relations. The teachers of these courses are Shelly Beltz and Sandy Chapman.

These courses can teach many things that need to be known after graduation from High School. Sewing will help to make clothes which are alot less expensive than buying new ones.

Sewing also becomes one of those very valuable lifetime leisure activities which one can persue long after schools and classrooms become a fading memory.

Shop Classes Spark Careers

During 1981-82 there was a measureable growth in the vocational aspects of industrial arts at North High. This was due largely to a dramatic increase in membership and interest in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America chapter.

Under the direction of Loren Thorton, the enrollment for the entire department has stabilized and a wider variety of activities was offered in the various shop classes.

Social Studies Changes Faces

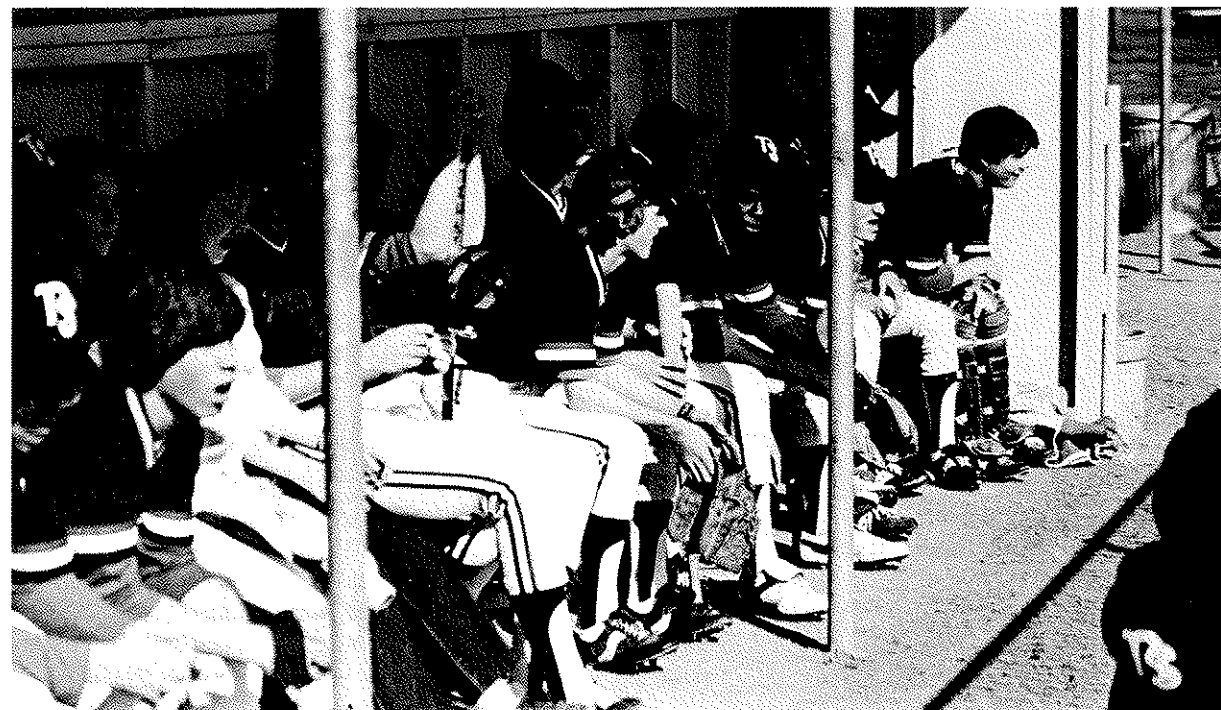

Three new faces were introduced to North's Social Studies department last year. Janet Musgrove started as a half-time teacher working with the 9th grade U.S. History students. With the retirement of long-time Salem teacher, George Porter, at the semester break, Janet became a full-time teacher and added the 12th grade citizenship II classes to her assignment.

Hugh Studebaker returned to North last year after a three-year absence. Studebaker demonstrated his versatility by teaching U.S. History, World History and Anthropology.

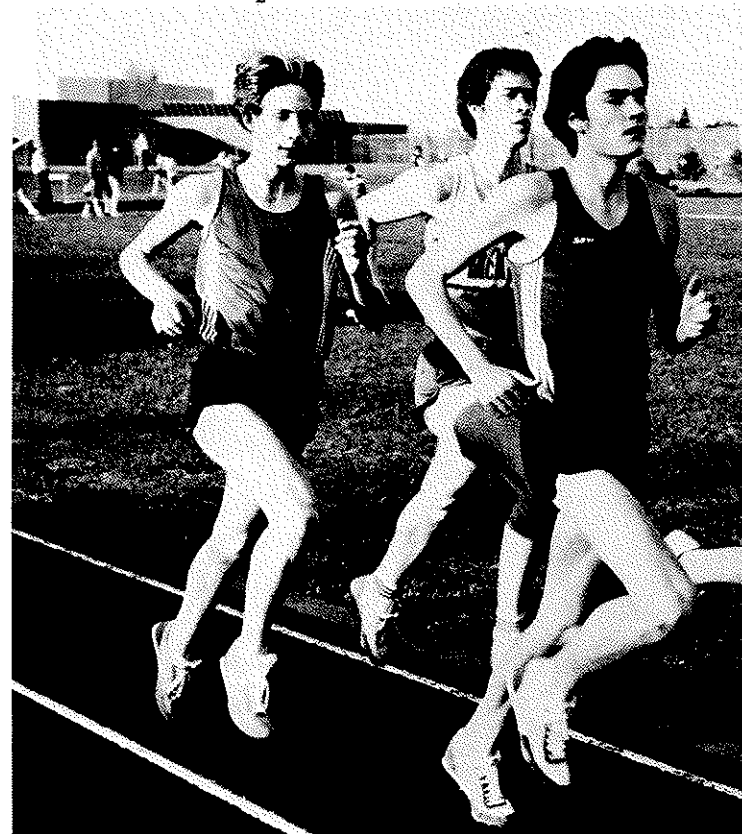

Mike Gilson was the third new teacher in the department. Gilson, a former North student, returned to his Alma Mater at the semester break to teach History and Citizenship.

Members of the department served district-wide curriculum committees all of last year developing new courses to meet the state requirement. The first of the new courses, American Political systems, will be implemented in 82-83, replacing Citizenship.

¹ Improvement Noted In Music Department

Our North Salem High music department has had an active year. Because of an increase in high-quality musicians, many activities have been made possible. Included in these musical affairs were contests, festivals, and a full schedule of public concerts.

One major highlight of their action-packed year, was the all-state music concert. Bands, orchestras and choirs from 200 different schools participated. The concert was located here in Salem at North Salem, McKay and Willamette University in February.

Optimist of the month is an award that is given to the students that are most improved or most involved in a specific area of school activities. Five students were chose this year for demonstrating outstanding performances in their areas. From the five, one will be Optimist of the Year.

Seniors Romp in Powder-Puff

The 1981-82 annual Powder-Puff football game was held on Wednesday, October 14.

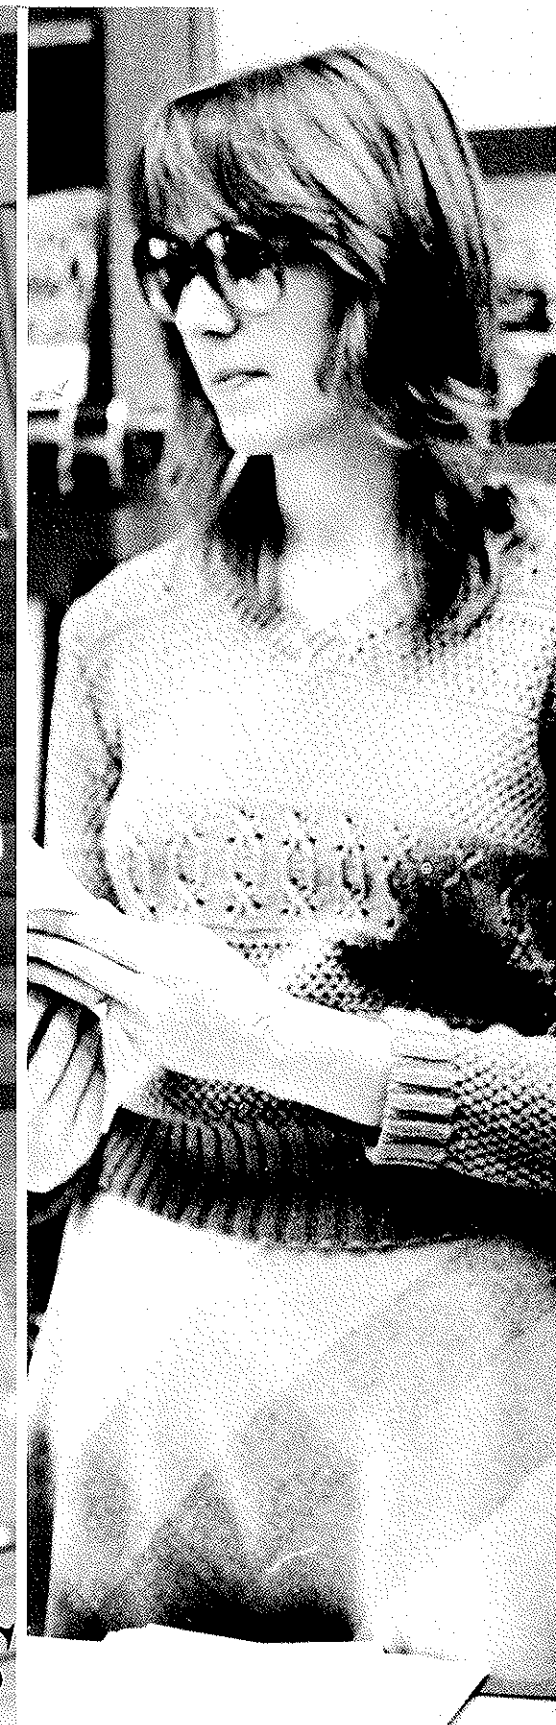

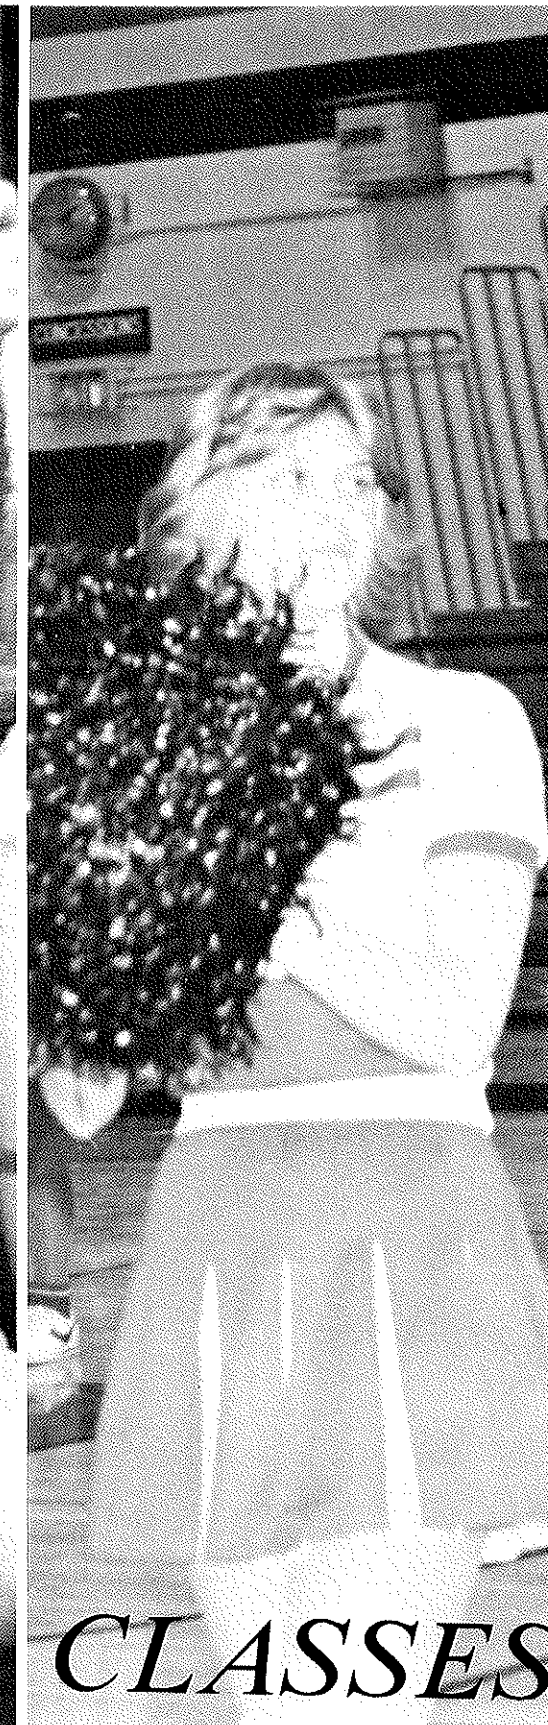

The game started off with the juniors vs. the freshman. Annette Garrison was the quarterback and leading scorer. The juniors scored 24 points in the game and did not allow a freshman score. The final outcome was 24-0, with the juniors victorious.

The second game was between the seniors and the sophomores. The seniors got off to a great start with Tammy Hart scoring 12 points. The quarterback for the seniors was Tracee Hoffman. The final score between the seniors and the sophomores was 12-0, seniors victorious.

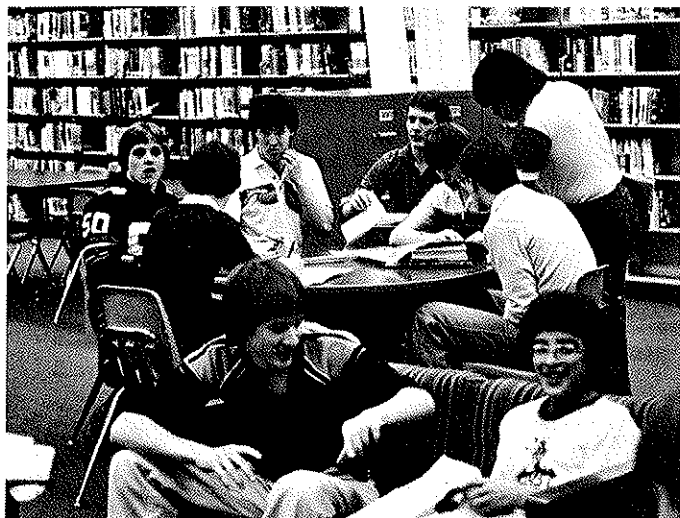

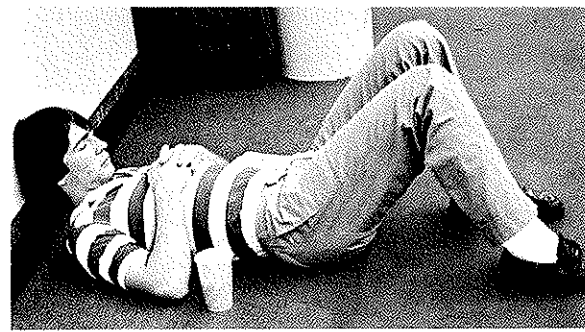

The third and final CHAMPIONSHIP game between the seniors and the juniors was an awesome game for the seniors. They were able to score a touchdown right away. Janice Giza played an outstanding game for the seniors at running back position. The seniors then scored twice more, not allowing the juniors to score a single point. The final outcome was 18-0, the awesome seniors victorious!

Graduation 1982

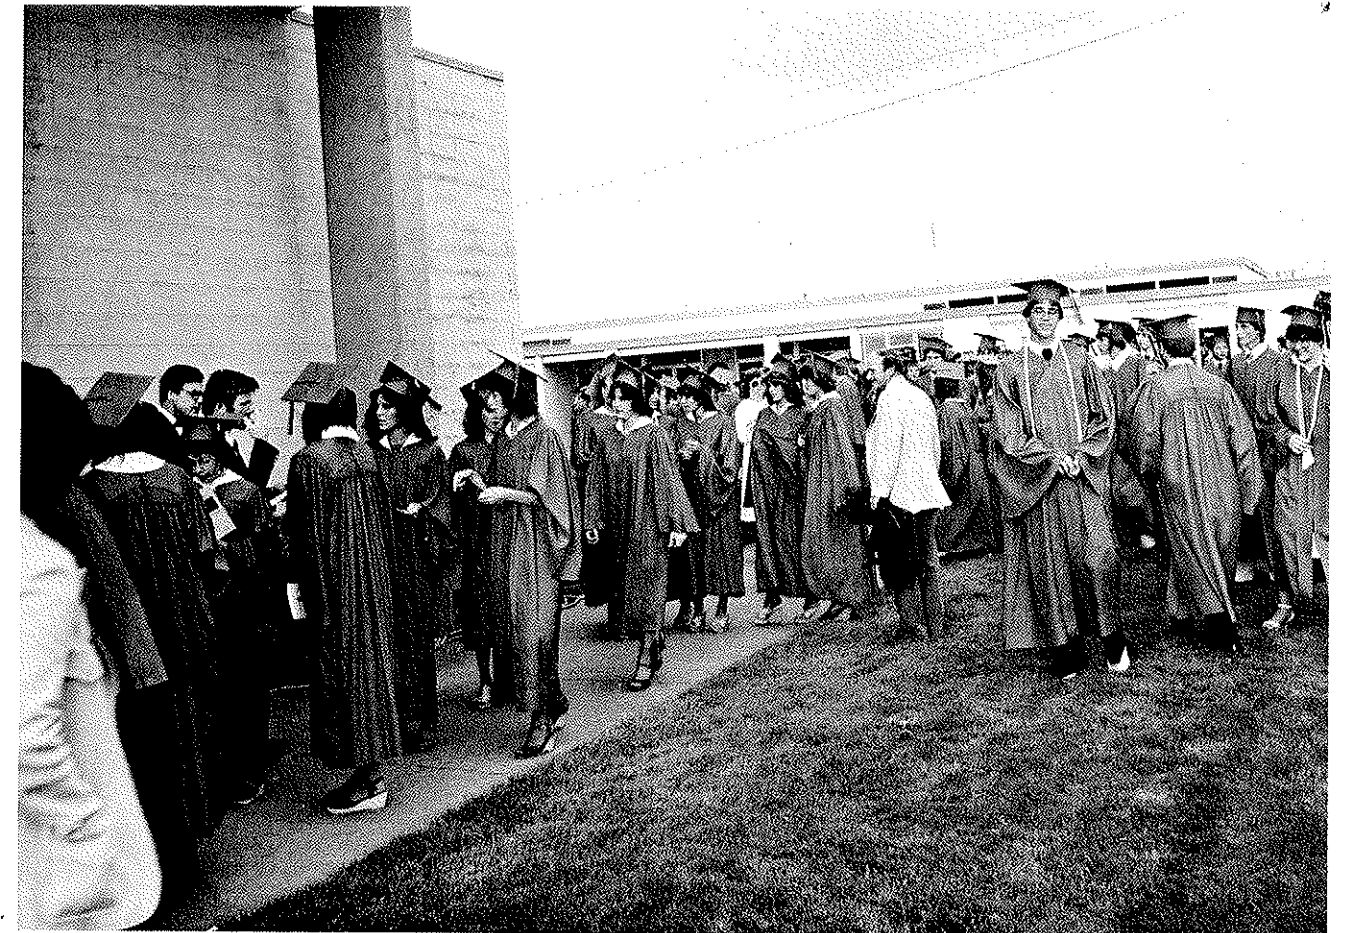

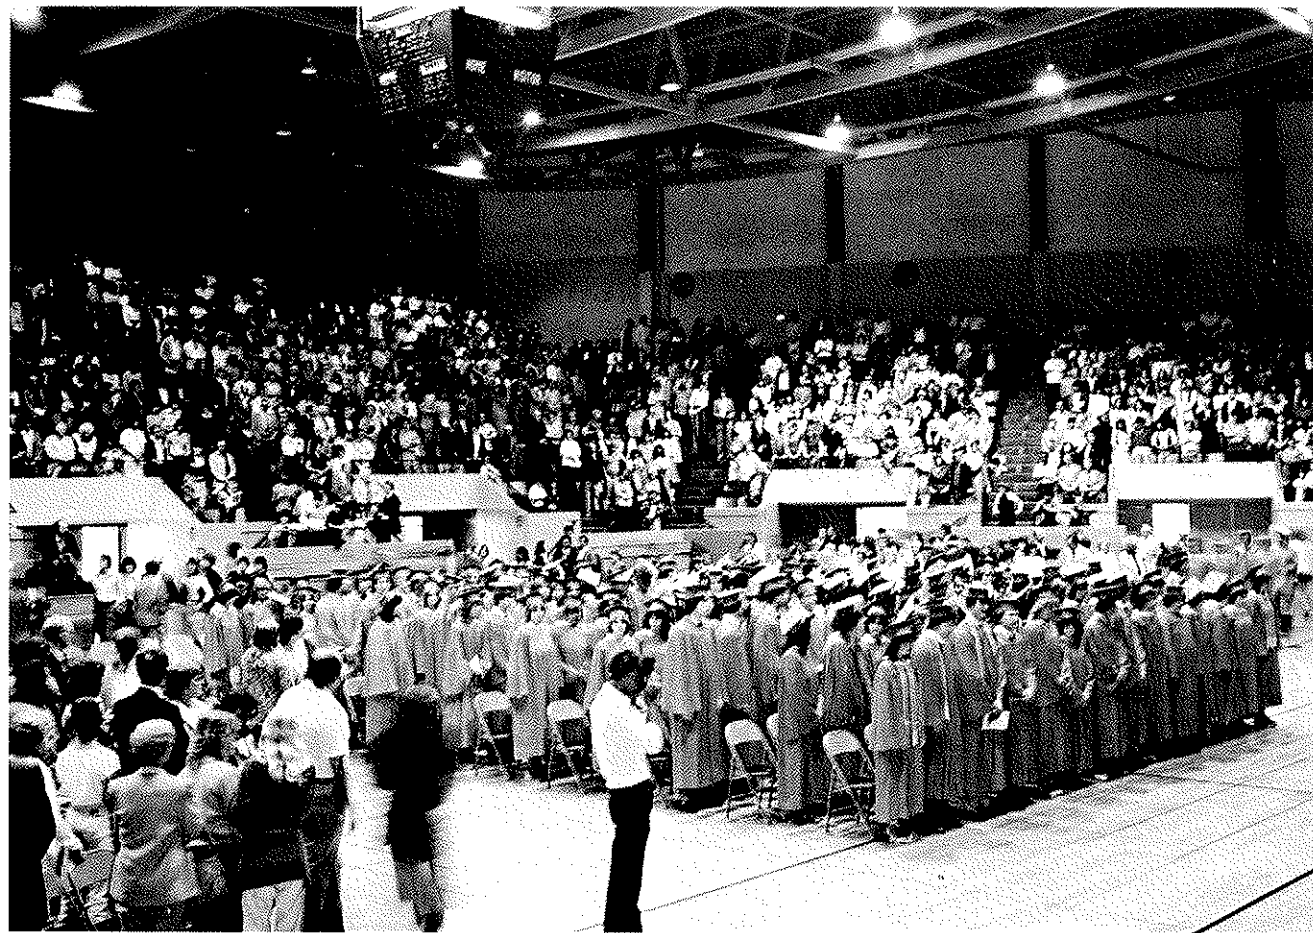

It had been a long wait and involved a great deal of work for the Class of 1982. But it paid off during the June 4 ceremonies at the Armory Auditorium.

For the last time, at least for the foreseeable future, Principal Tom Pickens handed out the diplomas. Pickens is moving to Sprague next fall.

Tony Gascon and Shannon O'Hara addressed the graduates on the past and the future respectively.

Mixed emotions were witnessed among the seniors, but a unanimous sigh of relief was breathed as the diplomas found their owners.
